Murray,2022-09-20 In a society that aims above all to safeguard life how might we reckon with ethical responsibility when we are complicit in sacrificial economies that produce and tolerate death as a necessity of life Arguing that biopower can be fully exposed only through an analysis of those whom society has let die Stuart J Murray employs a series of transdisciplinary case studies to uncover the structural and rhetorical conditions through which biopower works These case studies include the concept of sacrifice in the war against COVID 19 where emergent cultures of pandemic resistance are explored alongside suicide bombings and military suicides the California mass hunger strikes of 2013 legal cases involving preventable and untimely childhood deaths exposing the irreconcilable claims of anti vaxxers and Indigenous peoples and the videorecording of the death of a disabled Black man Murray demonstrates that active resistance to biopower inevitably reproduces tropes of making live and letting die His counter to this fact is a critical stance of disaffirmation one in which death disrupts the politics of life itself A philosophically nuanced critique of biopower The Living from the Dead is a meditation on life death power language and control in the twenty first century It will appeal to students and scholars of rhetoric philosophy and critical theory      Journal of the Assembly of the State of New York New York (State).
