The Terrible Power of a Minor Guilt Abraham B. The Retrospective Imagination of A. B. Yehoshua Yael Halevi-Wise, 2020-12-22 Once referred to by the New York Times as the Israeli Faulkner A B Yehoshua's fiction invites an assessment of Israel's Jewish inheritance and the moral and political options that the country currently faces in the Middle East The Retrospective Imagination of A B Yehoshua is an insightful overview of the fiction nonfiction and hundreds of critical responses to the work of Israel's leading novelist Instead of an exhaustive chronological biographical account of Yehoshua's artistic growth Yael Halevi Wise calls for a systematic appreciation of the author's major themes and compositional patterns Specifically she argues for reading Yehoshua's novels as reflections on the condition of Israel constructed multifocally to engage four intersecting levels of signification psychological sociological historical and historiosophic Each of the book's seven chapters employs a different interpretive method to showcase how Yehoshua's constructions of character psychology social relations national history and historiosophic allusions to traditional Jewish symbols manifest themselves across his novels The book ends with a playful dialogue in the style of Yehoshua's masterpiece Mr Mani that interrogates his definition of Jewish identity Masterfully written with full control of all the relevant materials Halevi Wise's assessment of Yehoshua will appeal to students and scholars of modern Jewish literature and Jewish studies A Companion to Narrative Theory James Phelan, Peter J.

the common notion of censorship Thirty well known contributors reflect on these questions including literary theorists Marshall Gregory James Phelan and Wayne Booth philosophers Martha Nussbaum Richard Hart and Nina Rosenstand and authors John Updike Charles Johnson Flannery O Connor and Bernard Malamud Divided into four sections with introductory matter and questions for discussion this accessible anthology represents the most crucial work today exploring the interdisciplinary connections among literature religion and philosophy

Sephardism Yael Halevi-Wise, 2012-04-11 In this book Sephardism is defined not as an expression of Sephardic identity but as a politicized literary metaphor Since the nineteenth century this metaphor has occurred with extraordinary frequency in works by authors from a variety of ethnicities religions and nationalities in Europe the Americas North Africa Israel and even India Sephardism asks why Gentile and Jewish writers and cultural figures have chosen to draw upon the medieval Sephardic experience to express their concerns about dissidents and minorities in modern nations To what extent does their use of Sephardism overlap with other politicized discourses such as orientalism hispanism and medievalism which also emerged from a clash between authoritarian progressive and romantic ideologies This book brings a new approach to Sephardic Studies by situating it at a crossroads between Jewish Studies and Hispanic Studies in ways that enhance our appreciation of how historical fiction and political history have shaped and were shaped by historical attitudes toward Jews and their representation

Metamorphosing Dante Fabio Camilletti, Manuele Gragnolati, Fabian Lampart, 2010-12-01 After almost seven centuries Dante endures and even seems to haunt the present Metamorphosing Dante explores what so many authors artists and thinkers from varied backgrounds have found in Dante's oeuvre and the ways in which they have engaged with it through rewritings dialogues and transpositions By establishing trans disciplinary routes the volume shows that along with a corpus of multiple linguistic and narrative structures characters and stories Dante has provided a field of tensions in which to mirror and investigate one's own time Authors explored include Samuel Beckett Walter Benjamin Andr Gide Derek Jarman LeRoi Jones Amiri Baraka James Joyce Wolfgang Koeppen Jacques Lacan Thomas Mann James Merrill Eugenio Montale Pier Paolo Pasolini Cesare Pavese Giorgio Pressburger Robert Rauschenberg Vittorio Sereni Virginia Woolf

Myth and History in the Bible Giovanni Garbini, 2003-06-01 The Old Testament and biblical scholarship itself distinguishes between mythical and historical This book argues that only historical thing in the Bible is the Bible itself a superb product of Jewish thought What is narrated in the Bible is only myth But this myth about Israel's past was still built with fragments of history or rather with written traditions that were different from those expressed in the actual text and obviously more ancient These essays follow in the spirit of his controversial History and Ideology in Ancient Israel which combine detailed philological research a wide knowledge of ancient Near Eastern literature and Biblical Archaeology and a radical way of understanding what the biblical text is really telling us This is an erudite and thought provoking book which should not be ignored by anyone who finds the origin of the Bible a fascinating and still largely unknown phenomenon The Camp Colman Hogan, Marta Marin-Dòmine, 2021-02-03 The camp is nothing if not diverse in kind scope and particularity in sociological and juridical configuration in texture iconography and political import Adjectives of camp specificity embrace a spectrum from extermination and concentration to detention migration deportation and refugee camps And while the geographic range covered by contributors is hardly global it is broad Chile Rwanda Canada the US Central Europe Morocco Algeria South Africa France and Spain And yet is to so characterize the camp to run the risk of diffusing what in origin is a concentration into a paratactical series of identity particularisms While The Camp does not seek to antithetically promulgate a universalist vision it does aim to explore the imbrication of the particular and the universal to analyze the structure of a camp or camps and to call attention the role of the listener in the construction of the testimony For by naming what cannot be said is not every narrative of internment and exclusion a potential site of agency articulating the inner splitting of language that Giorgio Agamben defines as the locus of testimony to bear witness is to place oneself in one's own language in the position of those who have lost it to establish oneself in a living language as if it were dead or in a dead language as if it were living
