A Lover's Quarrel with the Past Ranjan Ghosh, 2012-06-01 Although not a professional historian the author raises several issues pertinent to the state of history today Qualifying the non historian as an able interventionist in historical studies the author explores the relationship between history and theory within the current epistemological configurations and refigurations He asks how history transcends the obsessive linguistic turn which has been hegemonizing literary discourse analysis and focuses greater attention on historical experience and where history stands in relation to our understanding of ethics religion and the current state of global politics that underlines the manipulation and abuse of history

Handbook for Teaching Introductory Psychology Michelle Rae Hebl, Charles L. Brewer, Ludy T. Benjamin, Jr., 2001-08-01 Like its predecessors Volume III of the Handbook for Teaching Introductory Psychology provides introductory psychology instructors with teaching ideas and activities that can immediately be put into practice in the classroom It contains an organized collection of articles from Teaching of Psychology TOP the official journal of the Society for the Teaching of Psychology Division 2 of the American Psychological Association Volume III contains 89 articles from TOP that have not been included in other volumes Another distinction between this volume and its predecessors is its emphasis on testing and assessment The book is divided into two sections Section One Issues and Approaches in Teaching Introductory Psychology contains 52 articles on critical issues such as how to approach the course understanding students interests perceptions and motives students existing knowledge of psychology including their misconceptions a comparison of introductory textbooks and tips on how to evaluate them test questions and student factors affecting exam performance an overview of different forms of feedback giving extra credit and how to deal with academic dishonesty Section Two consists of 37 articles that present demonstrations class and laboratory projects and other techniques to enhance teaching and learning in both the introductory as well as advanced courses in the discipline This section is organized so as to parallel the order of topics found in most introductory psychology textbooks Intended for academicians who teach the introductory psychology course and or oversee grad assistants who teach the course all royalties of the book go directly to the Society for the Teaching of Psychology to promote its activities to further improve the teaching of psychology

Darwin-Inspired Learning Carolyn J. Boulter,Michael J. Reiss,Dawn L. Sanders,2015-01-19 Charles Darwin has been extensively analysed and written about as a scientist Victorian father and husband However this is the first book to present a carefully thought out pedagogical approach to learning that is centered on Darwin s life and scientific practice The ways in which Darwin developed his scientific ideas and their far reaching effects continue to challenge and provoke contemporary teachers and learners inspiring them to consider both how scientists work and how individual humans read nature Darwin inspired learning as proposed in this international collection of essays is an enquiry based pedagogy that takes the professional practice of Charles Darwin as its source Without seeking to idealise the man Darwin inspired learning places importance on active learning hands on enquiry critical thinking creativity argumentation interdisciplinarity In an increasingly urbanised world first hand observations of living plants and animals are becoming rarer Indeed some commentators suggest that such encounters are under threat and children are living in a time of nature deficit Darwin inspired learning with its focus on close observation and hands on enquiry seeks to re engage children and young people with the living world through critical and creative thinking modeled on Darwin s life and science
