The Great Capitals An Historical Geography:

The great capitals Vaughan Cornish, 1967 The Great Capitals Vaughan Cornish, 1923 The Great Capitals. An Historical Geography ... With Two Maps Vaughan Cornish, 1923 American Capitals Christian Montès, 2014-01-10 State capitals are an indelible part of the American psyche spatial representations of state power and national identity Learning them by heart is a rite of passage in grade school a pedagogical exercise that emphasizes the importance of committing place names to memory But geographers have yet to analyze state capitals in any depth In American Capitals Christian Montès takes us on a well researched journey across America from Augusta to Sacramento Albany to Baton Rouge shedding light along the way on the historical circumstances that led to their appointment their success or failure and their evolution over time While all state capitals have a number of characteristics in common as symbols of the state as embodiments of political power and decision making as public spaces with private interests Montès does not interpret them through a single lens in large part because of the differences in their spatial and historical evolutionary patterns Some have remained small while others have evolved into bustling metropolises and Montès explores the dynamics of change and growth All but eleven state capitals were established in the nineteenth century thirty five before 1861 but rather astonishingly only eight of the fifty states have maintained their original capitals Despite their revered status as the most monumental and historical cities in America capitals come from surprisingly humble beginnings often plagued by instability conflict hostility and corruption Montès reminds us of the period in which they came about an era of pioneer and idealized territorial vision coupled with a still evolving American citizenry and democracy American Geography: Inventory & Prospect Preston Everett James, Clarence Fielden Jones, 1954 Books of 1912- ,1922 Capital Cities: Varieties and Patterns of Development and Relocation Vadim Rossman, 2018-03-12 The issue of capital city relocation is a topic of debate for more than forty countries across the world In this first book to discuss the issue Vadim Rossman offers an in depth analysis of the subject highlighting the global trends and the key factors that motivate different countries to consider such projects analyzing the outcomes and drawing lessons from recent capital city transfers worldwide for governments and policy makers Capital Cities studies the approaches and the methodologies that inform such decisions and debates Special attention is given to the study of the universal patterns of relocation and patterns specific to particular continents and mega regions and particular political regimes The study emphasizes the role of capital city transfers in the context of nation and state building and offers a new framework for thinking about capital cities identifying six strategies that drive these decisions representing the economic political geographic cultural and security considerations Confronting the popular hyper critical attitudes towards new designed capital cities Vadim Rossman shows the complex motives that underlie the proposals and the important role that new capitals might play in conflict resolution in the context of ethnic religious and regional rivalries and federalist transformations of the state and is seeking to identify the success and failure factors and more efficient implementation strategies Drawing upon the insights from spatial economics comparative federalist studies urban planning and architectural criticism the book also traces the evolution of the concept of the capital city showing that the design iconography and the location of the capital city play a critical role in the success and the viability of the state Books of 1921-1925 Chicago Public Library,1927 Engaging the Past Eric H. Monkkonen,1994 Vigorous historical exploration has increased across the social sciences in the past two decades Originally published as a series of articles in the journal Social Science History the essays in this volume provide a guide to historical social science by surveying the use of historical data and methodologies in anthropology sociology political science economics and geography Each essay in Engaging the Past pays close attention to the unique problems and methods associated with its particular social scientific discipline By exploring questions raised by both contemporary and more established works within each field the authors show that some of the best and most innovative research in each of the social sciences includes a strong historical component Thus as Eric H Monkkonen s introduction shows these essays taken together make it clear that historical research provides a significant key to many of the major issues in the social sciences Intended for the growing community of both social scientists and historians interested in reading or researching historically informed social science Engaging the Past suggests future directions that might be taken by this work Above all by providing a set of user s guides written by respected social scientists it encourages future boundary crossings between history and each of the social sciences Contributors Andrew Abbott Richard Dennis Susan Kellog Eric H Monkkonen David Brian Robertson Hugh Rockoff The United States Catalog ,1924 Bulletin Salem Public Library,1919 Geographical Review ,1924 The Catholic Historical Review ,1925 Introduction to the Urban History of China Chonglan Fu,Wenming Cao,2019-07-25 This book explores China s urban development examining the history and culture of Chinese cities and providing a cultural background to the rapid urban development of contemporary China It offers a new perspective on Chinese urban history showcasing the traditional culture which underpins the emergence of the modern city and highlighting how traditional Chinese philosophical thought is reflected in the culture of urban planning and architecture in China notably examining such issues as the integration of man and nature yin and yang bagua and the Wu Xing The Spectator ,1896 Current literature of the month ,1923 The City Robert Ezra Park,Ernest Watson Burgess,Roderick Duncan McKenzie,1925 The Making of America's Culture Regions Richard L. Nostrand,2018-01-19 This outstanding text provides students with the essential foundation in the historical geography of the United States Distinguished scholar Richard L Nostrand skillfully synthesizes decades of historical geography research in an engaging and thought provoking overview His regional geography framework emphasizes the three themes central to cultural geography cultural ecology cultural diffusion and cultural landscape to explain the formation and change of culture regions in the United States He shows convincingly that regions are a valuable pedagogical device for developing students understanding of place and context The Geographical Teacher ,1924 Journal of the Society of Architects
