

The Green Roads

*The green roads that end in the forest
Are strewn with white goose feathers this June.*

*Life marks left behind by someone gone to the forest
To show his track. But he has never come back.*

*Down each green road a cottage looks at the forest.
Round one the nettle towers; two are bathed in flowers.*

*An old man along the green road to the forest
Strays from one, from another a child alone.*

*In the thicket bordering the forest,
All day long a thrush twiddles his song.*

*It is old, but the trees are young in the forest,
All but one like a castle keep, in the middle deep.*

*That oak saw the ages pass in the forest:
They were a host, but their memories are lost,*

*For the tree is dead: all things forget the forest
Excepting perhaps me, when now I see*

*The old man, the child, the goose feathers at the edge of the forest,
And hear all day long the thrush repeat his song.*

Wisconsin Library Bulletin, 1967      Poems of Edward Thomas Edward Thomas, 2012-05-22 Since the publication of Walter de la Mare's first edition of his poems in 1920 Edward Thomas has gradually come to be seen as one of the great English poets of the 20th century Though sometimes classified with Owen Rosenberg and Sassoon as a war poet he was rather a poet who died tragically in the war His main subjects were the English countryside and people solitude and the anguish of solipsism As de la Mare wrote eighty years ago When Edward Thomas was killed in Flanders a mirror of England was shattered of so pure and true a crystal that a clearer and tenderer reflection of it can be found no other where than in these poems This complete collection of Thomas's poems returns us to the ongoing relevance of this essential poet Revealing a poet whose work resonates in our times this volume will be returned to again and again The sorrow of true love is a great sorrow And true love parting blackens a bright morrow Yet almost they equal joys since their despair Is but hope blinded by its tears and clear Above the storm the heavens wait to be seen But greater sorrow from less love has been That can mistake lack of despair for hope And knows not tempest and the perfect scope Of summer

but a frozen drizzle perpetual Of drops that from remorse and pity fall And cannot ever shine in the sun or thaw Removed eternally from the sun's law Last Poem The sorrow of true love      Ageing in Irish Writing Heather Ingman, 2018-07-18 Age is a missing category in Irish literary criticism and this book is the first to explore a range of familiar and not so familiar Irish texts through a gerontological lens Drawing on the latest writing in humanistic critical and cultural gerontology this study examines the portrayal of ageing in fiction by Elizabeth Bowen Molly Keane Deirdre Madden Anne Enright Iris Murdoch John Banville John McGahern Norah Hoult and Edna O'Brien among others The chapters follow a logical thematic progression from efforts to hold back time to resisting the decline narrative of ageing solitary ageing versus ageing in the community and dementia and the world of the bedbound and dying One chapter analyses the changing portrayal of older people in the Irish short story Recent demographic shifts in Ireland have focused attention on an increasing ageing population making this study a timely intervention in the field of literary gerontology      Poetry Writers' Handbook Sophia Blackwell, 2022-09-15 Poetry is increasingly democratic in its use of different formats but it can be difficult to know how to navigate the range of options available In a competitive field this information is not always easy to access and many poets make mistakes This handbook is here to help How do you make the finances work Should you release a pamphlet or a full collection Which promoters should you work with How can you get your work reviewed How do you maintain a public profile if performance isn't for you What mentoring and publication options are open for mid-career poets The Poetry Writers Handbook will answer all these questions and more It provides practical advice on managing income and funding a career detailed information on printing and distribution marketing and publicity and submission to editors reviewers and prizes up to date contacts for funding organisations prizes publishers and magazines for poets and their work It gives a clear and up to date picture of what poets should focus on at different stages in their career      The Country House in English Renaissance Poetry William Alexander McClung, 2022-09-23 This title is part of UC Press's Voices Revived program which commemorates University of California Press's mission to seek out and cultivate the brightest minds and give them voice reach and impact Drawing on a backlist dating to 1893 Voices Revived makes high quality peer-reviewed scholarship accessible once again using print on demand technology This title was originally published in 1977
