- This is the result of an ongoing project to collect and distribute the most obscure and rare words in the English language. It also contains a few words which do not have equivalent words in English. At present, the dictionary contains approximately 2700 words, though it is constantly growing.

Your task is to look at the small selection of words and see if you can use one of these words in the course of today's lesson. Make a note of the one(s) you want to use.
