Smart Money Alex Duff,2024-03-21 In 1978 when Alex Duff first went to watch Brentford players would go on midweek pub crawls near the Griffin Park stadium Sometimes in no fit state to go home they would crash out in a terraced home where one of them lived opposite the stadium gates The next morning they clambered into a white van which one of them would drive to training stopping on the way for a bacon sandwich and cup of tea at a greasy spoon caf Brentford had once played in the top flight but now idling in the third division were a second home for players and supporters but there was neither the ambition nor money to revive their best days They bumbled along until in 2005 fed up with trying to make a profit from a club with an ageing stadium in an unfashionable west London suburb owner Ron Noades agreed to hand over the business to supporters on the condition they take over responsibility for their 5.5 million overdraft One of the fans an Oxford University physics graduate called Matthew Benham was making millions of pounds from professional gambling and threw in a 500 000 lifeline to help keep the club afloat Initially as a sort of academic challenge he began figuring out if he could employ the mathematics which he used in beating the bookmakers to improve the club's performance on the pitch
