Beyond the Yellow Tape: Life & Death on the Streets of Dc Curtis E Mozie, 2012-01-19 Curtis Mozie known on the streets as C Webb is without a doubt a leader in Washington DC He spends every waking moment trying to prevent gangs and gun violence on the streets of DC With the creation of Tale of the Tape Foundation Curtis produces films that document the lives and death of 65 of his friends murdered by gun violence He has been a catalyst for positive change for over twenty years earning the trust of both police officers and gang members having been a police officer himself its incredible that gangs have allowed him to intimately explore their violent and brutal world His video camera captures their day to day lives playing basketball and also their candidness in interviews at his apartment which is known as the Safe House a place where at risk youth come to be mentored on life skills and to have someone hear their problems and concerns When one of them gets killed or injured in gang violence Curtis is there to mourn the lost with family members He then creates a montage of their lives and deaths in a video tribute lessons learned Curtis without a doubt is a unique individual a community hero for DC Mothers and Fathers Hes appeared on numerous news media outlets across the world His message is an unfaltering dedication and commitment to making the streets of DC safer for everyone He now works at the Kennedy Recreation Center for the Department of Parks Recreation working with youth and serving the community

The Death and Life of Main Street Miles Orvell, 2012-10-01 For more than a century the term Main Street has conjured up nostalgic images of American small town life Representations exist all around us from fiction and film to the architecture of shopping malls and Disneyland All the while the nation has become increasingly diverse exposing tensions within this ideal In The Death and Life of Main Street Miles Orvell wrestles with the mythic allure of the small town in all its forms illustrating how Americans continue to reinscribe these images on real places in order to forge consensus about inclusion and civic identity especially in times of crisis Orvell underscores the fact that Main Street was never what it seemed it has always been much more complex than it appears as he shows in his discussions of figures like Sinclair Lewis Willa Cather Frank Capra Thornton Wilder Margaret Bourke White and Walker Evans He argues that translating the overly tidy cultural metaphor into real spaces as has been done in recent decades especially in the new urbanist planned communities of Elizabeth Plater Zyberk and Andres Duany actually diminishes the communitarian ideals at the center of this nostalgic construct Orvell investigates the way these tensions play out in a variety of cultural realms and explores the rise of literary and artistic traditions that deliberately challenge the tropes and assumptions of small town ideology and life
