Improving Student Learning One Teacher at a Time Jane E. Pollock, Laura J. Tolone, 2020-12-16 In this second edition of Improving Student Learning One Teacher at a Time Jane E. Pollock and Laura J. Tolone combine updated research and real world stories to demonstrate how it takes only one teacher to make a difference in student performance. Their approach expands the classic three part curriculum instruction assessment framework by adding one key ingredient: feedback. This Big Four approach offers an easy to follow process that helps teachers build better curriculum documents with Curriculum standards that are clear and well paced and describe what students will learn. Instruction based in research from daily lessons to whole units of study. Assessment that maximizes feedback and requires critical and creative thinking. Feedback that tracks and reports individual student progress by standards. Pollock and Tolone demonstrate how consistent, timely feedback from multiple sources can help students monitor their own understanding and help teachers align assignments, quizzes, and tests more explicitly to the standards. The Big Four shifts the focus away from the basics of what makes a good teacher toward what makes good learning happen for every student every day. Improving Student Learning National Research Council, Division of Behavioral and Social Sciences and Education, Board on Behavioral, Cognitive, and Sensory Sciences, Committee on a Feasibility Study for a Strategic Education Research Program, 1999-09-11 The state of America's schools is a major concern of policymakers, educators, and parents, and new programs and ideas are constantly proposed to improve it. Yet few of these programs and ideas are based on strong research about students and teachers about learning and teaching. Even when there is solid knowledge, the task of importing it into more than one million classrooms is daunting. Improving Student Learning responds by proposing an ambitious and extraordinary plan: a strategic education research program that would focus on four key questions: How can advances in research on learning be incorporated into educational practice? How can student motivation to achieve in school be increased? How can schools become organizations capable of continuous improvement? How can the use of research knowledge be increased in schools? This book is the springboard for a year-long discussion among educators, researchers, policy makers, and the potential funders: federal, state, and private of the proposed strategic education research program. The committee offers suggestions for designing, organizing, and managing an effective strategic education research program by building a structure of interrelated networks. The book highlights such issues as how teachers can help students overcome their conceptions about how the world works, the effect of expectations on school performance, and the particular challenges of teaching children from diverse and disadvantaged backgrounds. In the midst of a cacophony of voices about America's schools, this book offers a serious, long-range proposal for meeting the challenges of educating the nation's children. A Concise Guide to Improving Student Learning Diane Cummings Persellin, Mary Blythe Daniels, 2023-07-03 This concise guidebook is intended for faculty who are interested in engaging their students and developing deep and lasting learning but do not have the time to immerse themselves in the scholarship of teaching and learning Acknowledging the growing body of peer reviewed literature on practices that can dramatically impact teaching this intentionally brief book Summarizes recent research on six of the most compelling principles in learning and teaching Describes their application to the college classroom Presents teaching strategies that are based on pragmatic practices Provides annotated bibliographies and important citations for faculty who want to explore these topics further This guidebook begins with an overview of how we learn covering such topics such as the distinction between expert and novice learners memory prior learning and metacognition The body of the book is divided into three main sections each of which includes teaching principles applications and related strategies most of which can be implemented without extensive preparation The applications sections present examples of practice across a diverse range of disciplines including the sciences humanities arts and pre professional programs This book provides a foundation for the reader explore these approaches and methods in his or her teaching Improving Student Learning Herbert J.
