Stretching Beyond Lives Boundaries:

The Life of a Number B.T. Lawson,2023-04-28 Do numbers have a life of their own or do we give them meaning How do data play a role in constructing people s perceptions of the world around them How far can we trust numbers to speak truth to power The COVID 19 pandemic offers a unique moment to answer these questions This book examines how politicians experts and journalists gave meaning to data through the story of seven iconic numbers from the pandemic Shedding light on a new dawn of data this book makes a valuable contribution to our understanding of the relationship between numbers meaning and society

Hope for the Earth Ernst M. Conradie,2005-05-18 Hope for the Earth explores the viability of an eschatological approach to an ecological theology spirituality and praxis in the South African context The basic intuition of such an eschatological approach is that an environmental praxis can only be empowered on the basis of an adequate understanding of Christian hope Despair in the face of environmental destruction will inevitably lead to a spirit of resignation Where then can a vision of hope that includes hope for the earth be found The author proposes a road map for eschatology based on the observation that eschatology has traditionally responded to three aspects of the human predicament namely 1 the evil effects of sin 2 the problem of finitude and transience and 3 the limitations of human power and knowledge in space Part A This analysis is used to fathom the depths of despair as a result of environmental destruction Part B The Biblical roots and subsequent history of Christian eschatology are discussed briefly Part C Recent contributions in Christian eschatology ecological theology cosmology and South African expressions of hope are explored in depth in search of a vision of hope that includes hope for the earth itself Part D The eschatological road map is used to develop a vision of hope for the earth on the basis of a theology of life life amidst death and destruction life beyond death and eternal life in the presence of God Part E Finally the implications of this vision for an ecological ethos spirituality and praxis in the South African context are indicated Part F

The Liturgy of Life Ricky Manalo,2014-12-30 Everyday worship practices from praying the rosary to moments of recognizing the beauty of God s creation from being moved by the power of music to praying Vespers on an iPad not only take place at different locations and during different days of the week but also dynamically interact with one another The Liturgy of Life examines the interrelationship between the practice of Sunday Eucharist and the many nonofficial worship practices that mark the everyday lives of Christians who continually negotiate the boundaries of official teaching on liturgy Drawing on the writings of theologians and sociologists of lived religion and data from an ethnographic research project this timely work stretches the contextual horizon of liturgical scholarship and presents a provocative and dynamic paradigm of Christian worship for the twenty first century

An Ecological Christian Anthropology Ernst M. Conradie,2017-03-02 What is the place and vocation of human beings in the earth community This is the central question that this contribution towards a Christian ecological anthropology addresses In ecological theology this question is often answered by the affirmation that We are at home on earth This affirmation rightly responds to the widespread sense of alienation from nature to the anthropocentrism that pervades much of the Christian tradition and to concerns about the scope of environmental devastation This book challenges the affirmation that we are at home on earth examining natural suffering anxieties concerning human finitude and especially the pervasiveness of evil The book investigates contributions to ecological theology South African and African theology reformed theology and contemporary dialogues between theology and the sciences in search of a thoroughly ecological Christian anthropology

Augmented Urban Spaces Dr Alessandro Aurigi,Dr Fiorella De Cindio,2012-11-28 There have been numerous possible scenarios depicted on the impact of the internet on urban spaces Considering ubiquitous pervasive computing mobile wireless connectivity and the acceptance of the Internet as a non extraordinary part of our everyday lives mean that physical urban space is augmented and digital in itself This poses new problems as well as opportunities to those who have to deal with it This book explores the intersection and articulation of physical and digital environments and the ways they can extend and reshape a spirit of place It considers this from three main perspectives the implications for the public sphere and urban public or semi public spaces the implications for community regeneration and empowerment and the dilemmas and challenges which the augmentation of space implies for urbanists Grounded with international real life case studies this is an up to date interdisciplinary and holistic overview of the relationships between cities communities and high technologies

Where Am I in the Picture? Claudia Mitchell,Katarina Giritli-Nygren,Relebohile Molestane,2023-12-18 Positionality and researcher reflexivity how to account for one s subject position remain as challenges for new researchers But they also remain as challenges for experienced researchers who are often involved in multiple research projects simultaneously Where Am I in the Picture sheds light on the idea of researcher positionality through visual methodologies particularly in the context of studying rurality in Canada Sweden and South Africa The book is intended for new and experienced researchers seeking to decolonize their own perspectives in research in the social sciences and humanities It incorporates photographs drawings and memory work to highlight the social constructedness of what counts as rural Drawing together compelling narratives from researchers about their positionality in studying rurality the book highlights a need for greater attention to where we are in the picture more broadly It suggests that when it comes to the rural researchers need to rethink the interplay of dominant images insider and outsider perspectives and what this interplay means in relation to interpretation Where Am I in the Picture presents a new vision of how to take into consideration positionality in research

Revival and Reconciliation Philip V. Bohlman,2013-06-07 Sacred music has long contributed fundamentally to the making of Europe The passage from origin myths to history the sacred journeys that have mobilized pilgrims crusaders and colonizers the politics and power sounded by the vox populi all have joined in counterpoint to shape Europe s historical longue dur e Drawing upon three decades of research in European sacred music Philip V Bohlman calls for a reexamination of European modernity in the twenty first century a modernity shaped no less by canonic religious and musical practices than by the proliferation of belief systems that today more than ever respond to the diverse belief systems that engender the New Europe In contrast to most studies of sacred musical practice in European history with their emphasis on the musical repertoires and ecclesiastical practices at the center of society Bohlman turns our attention to individual and marginalized communities and to the collectives of believers to whose lives meaning accrues upon sounding the sacred together In the historical chapters that open Revival and Reconciliation Bohlman examines the genesis of modern history in the convergence and conflict that lie at the heart of the Abrahamic faiths Judaism Christianity and Islam Critical to the meaning of these religions to Europe Bohlman argues has been their capacity to mobilize both sacred journey and social action which enter the everyday lives of Europeans through folk religion pilgrimage and politics the subjects of the second half of his study The closing sections then cross the threshold from history into modernity above all that of the New Europe with its return to religion through revival and reconciliation Based on an extensive ethnographic engagement with the sacred landscapes and sites of conflict in twenty first century Europe Bohlman calls in his final chapters for new ways of hearing the silenced voices and the full chorus of sacred music in our contemporary world Ethnomusicologists from different traditions as well as scholars of religious studies and the history of modern Europe will find Revival and Reconciliation a fascinating exploration of the connections between sacred music and the role it plays in the formations of the modern self
