Stretching Water Supplies Alternate Technologies And Strategies:

Stretching Water Supplies University of Regina. Canadian Plains Research Center,1992 This symposium covered the quality and quantity of water resources in the region current management practices and projected new methods the economics of water storage and the difficulties of persuading farmers that new methods should be tried Policy and

Strategic Behaviour in Water Resource Management Ariel Dinar,Jose Albiac,2012-05-16 Water resource management throughout the world is a very complicated issue involving various aspects and dimensions and a well coordinated set of policies A well designed water policy is a multi faceted concerted intervention which could be specific to just one set of political and physical socio economic conditions A framework to analyse the interaction between policy design and implementation can assist in improving both of these in various physical economic and political situations This book focuses on the interaction between policy making and strategic behaviour of policy makers water users and other stakeholders and how policy analysis and other analytical tools from the field of game theory and negotiation can improve policy design The book presents analysis by high level policy makers and policy analysts from various countries to share experience regarding specific policy issues that are relevant to almost any country in the world but may have been addressed differently in each country island of Galapagos The research encompasses a thorough assessment of the water supply crisis as well as the quantification of water demand from different categories domestic tourist restaurants and laundries through surveys in the absence of water metering Also specific water demand was assessed by installing 18 water meters The results yield a wide range of water consumption questioning the current assumption of water scarcity Furthermore a prognosis of water supply and demand was carried out and also several intervention strategies were proposed such as rainwater harvesting greywater recycling leakage reduction water meter installation water demand reduction as well as seawater desalination to cope with the future population growth Due to the fragility of the ecosystem these strategies were assessed through a Multi Criteria Decision Analysis considering environmental technical economic and social aspects as well as relevant stakeholders perspectives finally the water supply network of Puerto Ayora was evaluated in order to understand the need of the current intermittent supply regime A methodology was developed to estimate the overflow of the domestic roof tanks a common incidence amongst local population The results question the practicality of individual household storage The final results show that the current situation in terms of the lack of water quantity may not be real as it has been thought for the last decades The water issues refer more importantly to the water quality as well as to the lack of proper water management practices

Integrated Pollution Prevention and Control for the Municipal Water Cycle in a River Basin Context

Alberto Galvis-Castaño, 2019-08-14 The protection of water resources from deterioration in quality by pollution discharges is probably the biggest challenge in sustainable water resources management in the recent decades In practice most countries have adopted pollution control strategies and measures which are based on end of pipe solutions wastewater treatment plants and adjustments to the regulations including taxes for wastewater discharges Conventional Strategy Although this approach involves very high costs on many occasions this strategy has been a complete failure The research described in this book contribute to the development of sustainable solutions for the previously outlined problem It was based on the validation of the Three Step Strategic Approach concept 3 SSA which includes 1 prevention or minimisation of waste production 2 treatment aimed at recovery and reuse of waste components and 3 disposal of remaining waste with stimulation of natural self purification of the receiving water body The study showed overall positive effects of the 3 SSA in comparison of Conventional Strategy on wastewater management in the Upper Basin 389 km of the Cauca river the second most important river in Colombia The Cost Benefit Analysis clearly favoured the 3 SSA generating a major impact on the river water quality at lower cost compared to the Conventional Strategy

Water in the Middle East Karl David Hambright,F. J. Ragep,J. Ginat,2006-01-01 Scarcity of water is a problem in many areas around the world In this sense the Middle East which suffers from frequent droughts and a shortage of potable water is not unique However when political disagreements among states combine with issues of fair and equitable access to common water resources the problems associated with water scarcity seem intractable In this sense the Middle East and particularly the Jordan River Valley is indeed unique This enlightening book brings together the insights of scholars from Israel Palestine Jordan and the United States who employ a broad range of perspectives and disciplines engineering agronomy biology economics history geography and political science to examine the significance of water in Middle East conflicts These contributors do not offer facile remedies Rather they show that any solution must be achieved within a political and social framework of peace enlightened economic policies and technical measures that take due account of environmental conditions This volume is the result of the conference Water in the Jordan Valley sponsored by the Center for Peace Studies a division of the International Programs Center at the University of Oklahoma Directory of Published Proceedings ,1993 Canadian Books in Print 2002 Marian Butler,2002-02 India's Water Futures K. J. Joy,S. Janakarajan,2018-11-01 When it comes to water we flush and forget We use abuse and almost never recycle Water sector in India since the 1990s has seen some new ideas formalised legally and institutionally while others are still emerging and evolving Confronting the reality of current water management strategies this volume discusses the state of the Indian water sector to uncover solutions that can address the imminent water crises This book Analyses the growing water insecurity increase in demand inefficiency in water use and growing inequalities in accessing clean water Sheds light on water footprint in agricultural industrial and urban use pressures on river basin management depleting groundwater resources patterns of droughts and floods watershed based development and waste water and sanitation management Examines water conflicts lack of participatory governance mechanisms and suggests an alternative framework for water regulation and conflict transformation Highlights the relationship between gender discourse and water governance Presents an alternative agenda for water sector reforms This volume with hopes for a more water secure future will interest scholars and researchers of development studies environment studies public policy political studies political sociology and NGOs media and think tanks working in this area
