Strike From The Sky:

Strike From the Sky Richard P. Hallion, 2010-03-14 Chronicles the history of battlefield air attack from 1911 when the airplane was first used in war to the end of World War II Strike from the Sky Alexander McKee, 1967 Strike from the sky, etc Alexander MACKEE, 1967 Wild Sky Wilderness Act of 2005 United States. Congress. Senate. Committee on Energy and Natural Resources, 2005 Wild Sky Wilderness Act of 2005, March 10, 2005, 109-1 Senate Report No. 109-28, 2005 Pie in the Sky Kenneth Lougee, 2011-09-08 It could be said that the Joe Hill murder trial rates as one of the most important trials in Utah's history Hill a prolific Labor Union songwriter was accused of murdering a Salt Lake City shopkeeper and his son during a robbery in 1914 In Pie in the Sky author and trial lawyer Kenneth Lougee analyzes this case and explains the errors that were committed during the trial which resulted in Hill's guilty verdict and subsequent execution Interested in more than Hill's guilt or innocence Lougee provides a thorough discussion of the case including Hill's background with the Industrial Workers of the World the political and religious climate in Utah at the time the particulars of the trial and the failings of the legal process In this analysis Lougee focuses on those involved in the trial most especially the lawyers which he describes in the text as the worst pieces of lawyering of all time Pie in the Sky presents a breakdown of this case from a lawyer's perspective and shows why this trial is still a matter of interest in the twenty-first century Women in the Sky Hwasook Nam, 2021-08-15 Winner of the 2023 John K Fairbank Prize and the 2023 James B Palais Prize Women in the Sky examines Korean women factory workers' century-long activism from the 1920s to the present with a focus on gender politics both in the labor movement and in the larger society It highlights several key moments in colonial and postcolonial Korean history when factory women commanded the attention of the wider public including the early 1930s rubber shoe workers' general strike in Pyongyang the early 1950s textile workers' struggle in South Korea the 1970s democratic union movement led by female factory workers and women workers' activism against neoliberal restructuring in recent decades Hwasook Nam asks why women workers in South Korea have been relegated to the periphery in activist and mainstream narratives despite a century of persistent militant struggle and indisputable contributions to the labor movement and successful democracy movement Women in the Sky opens and closes with stories of high-altitude sit-ins a phenomenon unique to South Korea beginning with the rubber shoe worker Kang Churyong's sit-in in 1931 and ending with numerous others in today's South Korean labor movement including that of Kim Jin Sook In Women in the Sky Nam seeks to understand and rectify the vast gap between the crucial roles women industrial workers played in the process of Korea's modernization and their relative invisibility as key players in social and historical narratives By using gender and class as analytical categories Nam presents a comprehensive study and rethinking of the twentieth-century nation-building history of Korea through the lens of female industrial worker activism Holding Up More Than Half the Sky Xiaolan Bao, 2024-04-22 In 1982 20 000 Chinese American garment workers most of them women went on strike in New York City Every Chinese garment industry employer in the city soon signed a union contract The successful action reflected the ways women's changing positions within their families and within the workplace galvanized them to stand up for themselves Xiaolan Bao's now classic study penetrates to the heart of Chinese American society to explain how this militancy and organized protest seemingly so at odds with traditional Chinese female behavior came about Drawing on more than one hundred interviews Bao blends the poignant personal stories of Chinese immigrant workers with the interwoven history of the garment industry and the city's Chinese community Bao shows how the high rate of married women employed outside the home profoundly transformed family culture and with it the image and empowerment of Chinese American women At the same time she offers a complex and subtle discussion of the interplay of ethnic and class factors within New York's garment industry Passionately told and prodigiously documented Holding Up More Than Half the Sky examines the journey of a community's women through an era of change in the home on the shop floor and walking the picket line Holding up Half the Sky Shirley Mow, Tao Jie, Zheng Bijun, 2004-04-01 These 21 dynamic articles by Chinese women scholars explore the limitations on women's lives in premodern China detail their involvement in the great political movements of the 20th century and examine how new laws have improved women's status yet have left them open to exploitation as China enters the global economy With statistics and reports otherwise unavailable they give a refreshing outlook on China's women that is breathtaking both for the problems it confronts and for the spirit of struggle it embodies Blue Sky Metropolis Peter J. Westwick, 2012-06-04 Like citrus oil movies radio and television aerospace helped create Southern California and embody its values Blue Sky Metropolis launches an entirely fresh consideration of an iconic industry that answered the immemorial hunger of the human race for flight and the future Kevin Starr University of Southern California Blue Sky Metropolis presents an intriguing survey of a unique time in Southern California history when cheap land and benign weather lured massive aerospace enterprises to the region eventually serving as home to nearly half of the nation's defense and space fabricators Before there was a Silicon Valley high tech dreamers were on the loose in the Southland creating inventions as diverse as the Voyager planetary spacecraft and the Stealth bomber These highly readable essays help us understand how it happened how Southern California shaped aerospace and vice versa Charles Elachi Director Jet Propulsion Laboratory Peter Westwick has assembled a rich collection of essays that tell a wonderful story about the importance of the aerospace industry to Southern California and the importance of Southern California to the aerospace industry There's technology sociology economics geography anthropology and much more woven through the chapters It's an ambitious project but it succeeds in being interesting informative and entertaining Michael Rich President and CEO The RAND Corporation Into The Sky Yu Qing, 2020-05-31 Eighteen years ago a first god body appeared in the Xu family It had ten divine veins but the news of it had been leaked out and ten divine veins had been destroyed From then on even though he had the qualifications of a god body he could no longer cultivate He had never been known to shake the mountains and rivers he had never been able to cover the sky with his hands but he had guided the world he had never possessed endless abilities but he had been respected by the world as a teacher he was destined to not live past twenty even though he was young and extraordinary Decisions and Orders of the National Labor Relations Board United States.
