Terror Or Love:

Terror, Love and Brainwashing Alexandra Stein, 2016-11-03 Written by a cult survivor and renowned expert on cults and totalitarianism Terror Love and Brainwashing draws on the author's 25 years of study and research to explain how almost anyone given the right set of circumstances can be radically manipulated to engage in otherwise incomprehensible and often dangerous acts Illustrated with compelling stories from a range of cults and totalitarian systems from religious to political to commercial the book defines and analyses the common and identifiable traits that underlie almost all these groups It focuses on how charismatic authoritarian leaders control their followers attachment relationships via manipulative social structures and ideologies so that emotionally and cognitively isolated they become unable to act in their own survival interests Using the evolutionary theory of attachment to demonstrate the psychological impact of these environments and incorporating the latest neuroscientific findings Stein illustrates how the combined dynamic of terror and love works to break down people's ability to think and behave rationally From small local cults to global players like ISIS and North Korea the impact of these movements is widespread and growing This important book offers clarity and a unique perspective on the dynamics of these systems of control and concludes with guidance to foster greater awareness and prevention It will be essential reading for mental health professionals in the field as well as policy makers legal professionals cult survivors and their families as well as anyone with an interest in these disturbing groups Students of social and developmental psychology will also find it fascinating

Islamic Terror Avner Falk, 2008-07-30 Independent scholar Falk analyzes the genesis of Islamic terror from many standpoints including religious cultural historical political social economic and above all psychological Drawing on his training as a clinical psychologist Falk's writings specialize in psychohistory and political psychology Here he examines topics including infantile experience and adult terrorism the meaning of terror terrorists and their mothers narcissistic rage and Islamic terror and whether terrorists are normal people as some scholars claim He also describes the infantile development of terrorist pathology non psychoanalytic theories of terrorism globalization's effect on terrorism and the notion of the clash of civilizations Other topics addressed in this reader friendly analysis include history's first Islamic terrorists and three important cases two recent deadly terrorists and a primary figure in our current war on terror Independent scholar Falk analyzes the genesis of Islamic terror from many standpoints including religious cultural historical political social economic and above all psychological Drawing on his training as a clinical psychologist Falk's writings specialize in psychohistory and political psychology Here he examines topics including infantile experience and adult terrorism the meaning of terror terrorists and their mothers narcissistic rage and Islamic terror and whether terrorists are normal people as some scholars claim He also describes the infantile development of terrorist pathology non psychoanalytic theories of terrorism globalization's effect on terrorism and the notion of the clash of civilizations Examining the emotional structure of traditional Muslim families Falk shows us the Muslim child's ambivalence toward his or her parents ways in which Muslims abuse women and children and the roots of Muslim rage and why all of that plays into the development of future terrorism Other topics addressed in this reader friendly analysis include history s first Islamic terrorists and three important cases two recent deadly terrorists and a primary figure in our current war on terror The central idea throughout the book is that a person s attitude toward terror and terrorism as well as whether he or she becomes a murderous terrorist or even who wages a global war on terror has much to do with that person s own terrifying experiences in infancy and childhood Such terror usually experienced first in the earliest interactions with the mother is symbolically expressed as Falk shows in fairy tales and myths about terrifying witches and female monsters Further terror may be experienced in the relationship with the father and also in various other traumatic ways It is these early terrors when extreme and uncontrollable that most often produce terrorists and wars on terror Falk argues Thus his book focuses on the conscious but also on the irrational and unconscious causes of terrorism

The War on Terror and Terror of War Harry Anastasiou,2023-04-04 In this book the author Harry Anastasiou explains previously unaddressed historical outcomes resulting from the combined impact of the September 11 2001 attacks and the United States subsequent Global War on Terror While expounding on the finer details of the decades long interaction between militant jihadism and the Global War on Terror the analysis explores two contrasting narratives that of bellicose nationalism and that of peace and democracy As central drivers in the historical evolution of America their contrasting influences shaped policy political culture and strategic approaches in both the domestic and international arenas Throughout the post 9 11 era mainstream America underwent significant cultural and political shifts away from the narrative of peace and democracy as it tilted towards bellicose nationalism Focusing primarily on the presidency of George W Bush the book explores how nationalism harmed the rule of law human rights and democracy both domestically and internationally Viewing war as a regime rather than as a means to promote democracy the author conducts a reality based demythologization of war demonstrating how costly and counterproductive it has been In this light he questions the historical efficacy of war as well as the way nationalism both generates and glorifies war

The Terror's Touch Jun Shi, 2024-09-19 The Terror's Touch draws readers into a chilling world where a pervasive darkness subtly corrupts reality leaving an indelible mark on everything it touches Elara a cartographer haunted by a family curse and the disappearance of her grandfather Silas Thorne embarks on a perilous journey to the Obsidian Archipelago This cluster of volcanic islands shrouded in perpetual twilight holds the key to the encroaching Shadow Blight and the origin of a growing terror Guided by cryptic journal entries and her own prophetic dreams Elara confronts not only the physical horrors of the archipelago from monstrous guardians and spectral entities to cursed artifacts but also the insidious psychological torment that threatens to unravel her sanity As she navigates haunted houses monster lairs and encounters with vampires werewolves and demons the narrative reveals the devastating impact of ancient malevolence This collection explores themes of fear survival the burden of lineage and the resilience of the human spirit in the face of overwhelming dread proving that while the terror's touch might linger the light of hope and enduring loyalty can ultimately prevail The Love of the Princess Alice Frank Kimball Scribner, 1896 Love and Adventure William Stephens Hayward, 1874 Love and His

Mask Mérie Muriel Dowie,1901      Wisdom, Glory and the Name Priest-Monk Silouan,2013-12-06 A collection of scholarly essays on the role of women in Eastern Christianity in Antiquity and through to contemporary times      Coasting in the Countertransference Irwin Hirsch,2011-02-25 Winner of the 2009 Goethe Award for Psychoanalytic Scholarship Irwin Hirsch author of Coasting in the Countertransference asserts that countertransference experience always has the potential to be used productively to benefit patients However he also observes that it is not unusual for analysts to coast in their countertransferences and to not use this experience to help treatment progress toward reaching patients and analysts stated analytic goals He believes that it is quite common that analysts who have some conscious awareness of a problematic aspect of countertransference participation or of a mutual enactment nevertheless do nothing to change that participation and to use their awareness to move the therapy forward Instead analysts may prefer to maintain what has developed into perhaps a mutually comfortable equilibrium in the treatment possibly rationalizing that the patient is not yet ready to deal with any potential disruption that a more active use of countertransference might precipitate This coasting is emblematic of what Hirsch believes to be an ever present and rarely addressed conflict between analysts self interest and pursuit of comfortable equilibrium and what may be ideal for patients achievement of analytic aims The acknowledgment of the power of analysts self interest further highlights the contemporary view of a truly two person psychology conception of psychoanalytic praxis Analysts embrace of their selfish pursuit of comfortable equilibrium reflects both an acknowledgment of the analyst as a flawed other and a potential willingness to abandon elements of self interest for the greater good of the therapeutic project

Faith in the Shadows Austin Fischer,2018-09-11 People don t abandon faith because they have doubts People abandon faith because they think they re not allowed to have doubts Even as a pastor Austin Fischer has experienced the shadows of doubt and disillusionment Leaning into perennial questions about Christianity he shows that doubt is no reason to leave the faith instead it s an invitation to a more honest faith      A Natural History of Love Diane Ackerman,2011-06-01 The bestselling author of A Natural History of the Senses now explores the allure of adultery the appeal of aphrodisiacs and the cult of the kiss Enchantingly written and stunningly informed this audaciously brilliant romp through the world of romantic love Washington Post Book World is the next best thing to love itself
