Textual and Contextual Analysis in Empirical Translation Studies Sara Laviosa, Adriana Pagano, Hannu Kemppanen, Meng Ji, 2016-07-28 This book presents the state of art research in ETS by illustrating useful corpus methodologies in the study of important translational genres such as political texts literature and media translations Empirical Translation Studies ETS represents one of the most exciting fields of research It gives emphasis and priority to the exploration and identification of new textual and linguistic patterns in large amounts of translation data gathered in the form of translation data bases A distinct feature of current ETS is the testing and development of useful quantitative methods in the study of translational corpora In this book Hannu Kemppanen explores the distribution of ideologically loaded keywords in early Finnish translation of Russian political genres which yielded insights into the complex political relation between Finland and Russia in the post Soviet era Adriana Pagano uses multivariate analysis in the study of a large scale corpus of Brazilian fiction translations produced between 1930s 1950s which is known as the golden age of Latin American translation The statistical analysis detected a number of translation strategies in Brazilian Portuguese fictional translations which point to deliberate efforts made by translators to re frame original English texts within the Brazilian social and political context in the first three decades under investigation Meng Ji uses exploratory statistical techniques in the study of recent Chinese media translation by focusing three important media genres i e reportage editorial and review The statistical analysis effectively detected important variations among three news genres which are analysed in light of the social and communicative functions of these news genres in informing and mobilising the audience in specific periods of time in Mainland China

Structure and Function □ A Guide to Three Major Structural-Functional Theories Christopher S. Butler, 2003-06-30 Like its companion volume this book offers a detailed description and comparison of three major structural functional theories Functional Grammar Role and Reference Grammar and Systemic Functional Grammar illustrated throughout with corpus derived examples from English and other languages Whereas Part 1 confines itself largely to the simplex clause Part 2 moves from the clause towards the discourse and its context The first three chapters deal with the areas of illocution information structuring topic and focus theme and rheme given and new information etc and clause combining within complex sentences Chapter 4 examines approaches to discourse text and context across the three theories The fifth chapter deals with the learning of language by both native and non native speakers and applications of the theories in stylistics computational linguistics translation and contrastive studies and language pathology The final chapter assesses the extent to which each theory attains the goals it sets for itself and then outlines a programme for the development of an integrated approach responding to a range of criteria of descriptive and explanatory adequacy

Research Methodologies in Translation Studies

Gabriela Saldanha, Sharon O'Brien, 2014-04-08 As an interdisciplinary area of research translation studies attracts students and scholars with a wide range of backgrounds who then need to face the challenge of accounting for a complex object of enquiry that does not adapt itself well to traditional methods in other fields of investigation This book addresses the needs of such scholars whether they are students doing research at postgraduate level or more experienced researchers who want to familiarize themselves with methods outside their current field of expertise The book promotes a discerning and critical approach to scholarly investigation by providing the reader not only with the know how but also with insights into how new questions can be fruitfully explored through the coherent integration of different methods of research Understanding core principles of reliability validity and ethics is essential for any researcher no matter what methodology they adopt and a whole chapter is therefore devoted to these issues Research Methodologies in Translation Studies is divided into four different chapters according to whether the research focuses on the translation product the process of translation the participants involved or the context in which translation takes place An introductory chapter discusses issues of reliability credibility validity and ethics The impact of our research depends not only on its quality but also on successful dissemination and the final chapter therefore deals with what is also generally the final stage of the research process producing a research report

Sadness Expressions in English and Chinese Ruihua Zhang, 2014-09-25 Winner of the Tianjin Social Science

Outstanding Achievement Award This book reports on the contrastive semantic investigation of sadness expressions between English and Chinese based on two monolingual general corpora and a parallel corpus The exploration adopts a unique theoretical approach which integrates corpus linguistic theories on meaning as a social construct usage and paraphrase with a corpus linguistic lexical model It employs a new complex but workable methodology which combines computational tools with manual examination to tease meaning out of corpus evidence to compare and contrast lexical items that do not match up neatly between languages It looks at sadness expressions both within and across languages in terms of three corpus linguistic structural categories i.e. colligation collocation and semantic association preference and paraphrase both explicit and implicit to capture their subtle nuances of meaning disclose the culture specific conceptualisations encoded in them and highlight their respective cultural distinctiveness of emotion By presenting multidisciplinary original work Sadness Expressions in English and Chinese will be of interest to researchers in corpus linguistics contrastive lexical semantics psychology bilingual lexicography and language pedagogy

English Ditransitive Verbs Joybrato Mukherjee, 2016-08-29

The present book offers fresh insights into the description of ditransitive verbs and their complementation in present day English. In the theory oriented first part a pluralist framework is developed on the basis of previous research that integrates ditransitive verbs as lexical items with both the entirety of their complementation patterns and the cognitive and semantic aspects of ditransitivity. This approach is combined with modern corpus linguistic methodology in the present study which draws on an exhaustive semi automatic analysis of all patterns of ditransitive verbs in the British component of the International Corpus of English ICE GB and also takes into account selected data from the British National Corpus BNC. In the second part of the study the complementation of ditransitive verbs e.g. give send is analysed quantitatively and qualitatively. Special emphasis is placed here on the identification of significant principles of pattern selection i.e. factors that lead language users to prefer specific patterns over other patterns in given contexts e.g. weight focus pattern flow in text lexical constraints. In the last part some general aspects of a network like usage based model of ditransitive verbs their patterns and the relevant principles of pattern selection are sketched out thus bridging the gap between the performance related description of language use and a competence related model of language cognition.

Lexicography of Coronavirus-related Neologisms Annette Kloss-Kückelhaus, Ilan Kernerman, 2022-12-19 This volume brings together contributions by international experts reflecting on Covid19 related neologisms and their lexicographic processing and representation. The papers analyze new words, new meanings of existing words and new multiword units where they come from, how they are transmitted or differ across languages and how their use and meaning are reflected in dictionaries of all sorts. Recent trends in as many as ten languages are considered including general and specialized language monolingual as well as bilingual and printed as well as online dictionaries.

The Routledge Handbook of Forensic Linguistics Malcolm Coulthard, Alison May, Rui Sousa-Silva, 2020-11-24 The Routledge Handbook of Forensic Linguistics offers a comprehensive survey of the subdiscipline of Forensic Linguistics with this new edition providing both updated overviews from leading figures in the field and exciting new contributions from the next generation of forensic linguists.
