The Gorge Of Summers Gone A History Of Victorias Inland Waterway:

The Gorge of Summers Gone : a History of Victoria's Inland Waterway Dennis Minaker, 1998 If These Walls Could Talk Valerie Green, 2001 How many times have you walked by or through an interesting old house wondering about its past and what tales its walls could whisper if they could answer your questions Although many of Victoria's heritage homes have disappeared some remain some rich and elegant and some working class All have stories to tell Valerie Green offers the stories of fifty houses and the people who lived loved and died in them The homes are illustrated by architectural artist Lynn Gordon Findlay in exquisite detail In If These Walls Could Talk Valerie and Lynn celebrate Victoria's splendid old houses and the history of another era They include only those residences still standing The time span ranges from the 1850s to the 1930s and covers a wide spectrum there are stories about famous houses of historical importance as well as some less familiar like the Rockland home that rocked with scandal and a farmhouse with a connection to Harrods the famous London retailer Maps have been included to show exact location The Lieutenant Governors of British Columbia, 2019-05-18 The office of lieutenant governor has been a constant in British Columbia from the province's colonial beginnings to the modern era Originally tasked with selecting the province's premier giving royal assent to provincial legislation and invested with the power to dismiss governments the role of the Crown's representative has continually evolved to meet the needs of society Today the office's constitutional powers largely focus on community functions but the role of lieutenant governor is more than ceremonial This was demonstrated after the 2017 provincial election when then Lieutenant Governor Judith Guichon accepted Premier Christy Clark's resignation and asked NDP leader John Horgan to attempt to form government rather than call a new election BC's early lieutenant governors were the force behind infrastructure initiatives such as building roads railways and ships and investing in electric utilities and the forest industry Although most came from the ranks of the British elite and often espoused policies that denied First Nations land rights and opposed the immigration of Chinese and Japanese people over time the office became more representative of the province's diverse population In recent years lieutenant governors have played an increasingly activist role celebrating cultural excellence and promoting literacy creativity environmental awareness Chinese Canadian David Lam 1988-95 had a mandate of intercultural understanding Iona Campagnolo 2001-7 the first woman to hold the position in BC focused on empowering youth and women and fostering a spirit of public inclusiveness at Government House Steven Point 2007-12 BC's first Indigenous lieutenant governor worked to establish libraries in First Nations communities Chronologically arranged and rich with photographs this work by historian Jenny Clayton paints a vivid picture of the lives of BC's thirty lieutenant governors Clayton's biographical essays capture the distinct personalities and events that have characterized the office from 1871 to the present offering a unique perspective on the evolution of the province City in Colour May Q. Wong, 2018-10-30 A timely intriguing collection of the overlooked stories of Victoria's pioneers trailblazers and community builders who were also diverse people of colour Often described as more English than the English the city of Victoria has a much more ethnically diverse background than historical record and current literature reveal Significant contributions were made by many people of colour with fascinating stories including the Kanaka or Hawaiian Islanders who constructed Fort Victoria and members of the Kanaka community such as Maria Mahoi and William Naukana three Metis matriarchs Amelia Connolly Douglas Josette Legac Work and Isabelle M Mainville Ross the Victoria Voltigeurs the earliest police presence in the Colony of Vancouver Island and who were primarily men of colour Grafton Tyler Brown now known in the United States as one of the first and best African American artists of the American West Manzo Nagano Canada's first recorded immigrant from Japan and many more With information about various cultural communities in early Victoria and significant dates May Wong's City in Colour is a collection of fascinating stories of unsung characters whose stories are at the heart of Victoria's history

Upstarts and Outcasts Valerie Green, 2000 The popular myth of Victoria's genteel history all upper class colonists and Royal Navy dances is ripe for puncturing Yes there were the wealthy and the well born but the city's pioneers also included madams and murderers salesmen and saloon keepers who would never have been seated at the dinner tables of the elite But these people upstanding citizens or impudent criminals contributed in their way to the life of the little settlement perched on the Pacific the New World represented a new start for everyone earnest hard working seamstresses and fly by night gold seekers alike Valerie Green has unearthed a variety of stories about saloon keepers housemaids actors and brothel owners Victoria's past may not be as proper as legends have it but it was a lot more colourful

Sitting Lady Sutra Kay Stewart, 2011 Vancouver Island RCMP Constable Danutia Dranchuk investigates a mysterious death at Sitting Lady Falls and starts to question whether this murder is connected to two earlier killings in the area and whether all three are the work of one killer

Stella Linda J. Eversole, 2011-02-01 A wealthy madam who was known from San Francisco to Victoria in the early part of the 20th century Stella Carroll was glamorous worldly and determined to succeed Her bordellos were fashionably decorated and patronized by the affluent and the powerful she offered the best of everything fine food and wine cigars entertainment and of course girls The author with the cooperation of Stella's family in California and New Mexico has provided an intimate portrait of this infamous unrepentant woman her business and her tenuous relationships with double dealing politicians and corrupt police whose cooperation was essential to her success in the shadowy world she inhabited Stella was a woman of contrasts Her scandalous lifestyle and fiery temper often landed her in court on morals charges yet she was devoted to and supportive of her family and gave generously to orphans and charities This compelling non fiction narrative is a fascinating look at Stella's life and at how things were in Victoria 100 years ago

Paddling Through History Aileen Stalker, Andrew Nolan, 2005 Experience inner city paddling with a guide that tells the story of Vancouver and Victoria from water level Explore history with the tales behind the people bridges lighthouses museums and watercraft you will see as you explore these waterways Paddling Through History explains place names geology and other highlights and is illustrated with maps and photos
