This Day In Comedy Frank Holder, Darryl Littleton, 2019-11-04 On This Day in Comedy is not just an encyclopedia but a celebration of comedy In humorous prose the book takes readers through the often neglected subcultures of comedy in America acknowledging the inclusiveness of the performers as well as shows and films that made this art form so vital to comics of all backgrounds It's artistically criminal that a search for Native American or Asian comedy information yields a virtually blank slate Look for Middle Eastern comics and you'll be provided information on the region's comic book revolution and search results for Latin comedy are confined to a series of outdated articles This encyclopedia will offer rare and in some cases never before seen photos and obscure facts making it an indispensable comedy essential productions of the 1950s like Requiem for a Heavyweight to big budget mini series like Band of Brothers long form television programs have been helmed by some of the most creative and accomplished names in directing Encyclopedia of Television Film Directors brings attention to the directors of these productions citing every director of stand alone long form television programs made for TV movies movie length pilots mini series and feature length anthology programs as well as drama comedy and musical specials of more than 60 minutes Each of the nearly 2 000 entries provides a brief career sketch of the director his or her notable works awards and a filmography Many entries also provide brief discussions of key shows movies and other productions Appendixes include Emmy Awards DGA Awards and other accolades as well as a list of anthology programs A much needed reference that celebrates these often neglected artists Encyclopedia of Television Film Directors is an indispensable resource for anyone interested in the history of the medium Voices and Silences James Earl

Jones, Penelope Niven, 2002 Limelight As this book explores the upbringing of James Earl Jones so does it discover his beginnings as an actor As Jones delves deeply into his memory so we venture deep into the rural south of his origins and early life deep into his turbulent family history and deep into the roles he's played both on the stage and on screens large and small In the new epilogue that concludes this edition Jones now in his seventies remembers the personal and professional events of the decade since the book's original publication Trying to Get Over Keith Corson, 2016-03-22 From 1972 to 1976 Hollywood made an unprecedented number of films targeted at black audiences But following this era known as blaxploitation the momentum suddenly reversed for black filmmakers and a large void separates the end of blaxploitation from the black film explosion that followed the arrival of Spike Lee's She's Gotta Have It in 1986 Illuminating an overlooked era in African American film history Trying to Get Over is the first in depth study of black directors working during the decade between 1977 and 1986 Keith Corson provides a fresh definition of blaxploitation lays out a concrete reason for its end and explains the major gap in African American representation during the years that followed He focuses primarily on the work of eight directors Michael Schultz Sidney Poitier Jamaa Fanaka Fred Williamson Gilbert Moses Stan Lathan Richard Pryor and Prince who were the only black directors making commercially distributed films in the decade following the blaxploitation cycle Using the careers of each director and the twenty four films they produced during this time to tell a larger story about Hollywood and the shifting dialogue about race power and access Corson shows how these directors are a key part of the continuum of African American cinema and how they have shaped popular culture over the past quarter century

Reruns on File Donald G. Godfrey, 2013-09-13 For more than half a century broadcast recordings have reflected an important aspect of our culture and history An increasing number of archivists and private collectors have restored and exchanged radio and television materials However despite the awareness of these primary resource materials there is still some reluctance to utilize this aural and visual history resource A part of this reluctance is due to the fact that little is known about the existence of many collections throughout the nation This volume provides a comprehensive directory of electronic media archives in the United States and Canada It describes each collection focusing on its speciality providing the serious researcher with ready access information to these electronic media program resources Focusing on both private and institutional collections it is organized by state and city with indexes to provide the scholar with subject and location of specific topics of interest

Comical Co-Stars of Television Robert Pegg, 2002-05-20 Although some scholars credit Shakespeare with creating in Henry IV s Falstaff the first second banana character reviving him for Henry IV Part Two most television historians agree that the popular co star was born in 1955 when Art Carney as Ed Norton first addressed Jackie Gleason with a Hey Ralphie boy on The Honeymooners The phenomenon has proved to be one of the most enduring achievements of the American sitcom and oftentimes so popular that the co star becomes the star Twenty nine of those popular co stars get all of the attention in this work Each chapter focuses on one television character and the actor or actress who brought him or her to life and provides critical analysis biographical information and in several instances interviews with the actors and actresses themselves It includes people like Art Carney of The Honeymooners Don Knotts of The Andy Griffith Show Ted Knight of The Mary Tyler Moore Show Max Baer of The Beverly Hillbillies Vivian Vance and William Frawley of I Love Lucy Ann B Davis of The Brady Bunch Jamie Farr of M A S H Ron Palillo of Welcome Back Kotter Jimmie Walker of Good Times Tom Poston of Newhart and Michael Richards of Seinfeld to name just a few

Historical Dictionary of African American Cinema S. Torriano Berry, Venise T. Berry, 2007-01-26 On 4 July 1910 in 100 degree heat at an outdoor boxing ring near Reno Nevada film cameras recorded and thousands of fans witnessed former heavyweight champion Jim Jeffries reluctant return from retirement to fight Jack Johnson a black man After 14 grueling rounds Johnson knocked out Jeffries and for the first time in history there was a black heavyweight champion of the world At least 10 people lost their lives because of Johnson s victory and hundreds more were injured due to white retaliation and wild celebrations in the streets Public screenings received instantaneous protests and hundreds of cities barred the film from being shown Congress even passed a law making it a federal offense to transport moving pictures of prizefights across state lines and thus the most powerful portrayal of a black man ever recorded on film was made virtually invisible This is but one of the hundreds of films covered in the Historical Dictionary of African American Cinema which includes everything from The Birth of a Nation to Crash In addition to the films brief biographies of African American actors and actresses such as Sidney Poitier James Earl Jones Halle Berry Eddie Murphy Whoopi Goldberg Denzel Washington and Jamie Foxx can be found in this reference Through a chronology a list of acronyms and abbreviations an introductory essay a bibliography appendixes black white photos and hundreds of cross referenced dictionary entries on actors actresses movies producers organizations awards film credits and terminology this book provides a better understanding of the role African Americans played in film history
