Natural Resources, Corruption, and Economic Growth Mr.Carlos Leite,Jens Weidmann,1999-07-01 This paper argues that natural resource abundance creates opportunities for rent seeking behavior and is an important factor in determining a country s level of corruption In a simple growth model we illustrate the interrelationships between natural resources corruption and economic growth and discuss potential anti corruption policies We show that the extent of corruption depends on natural resource abundance government policies and the concentration of bureaucratic power Furthermore the growth effects of natural resource discoveries and anticorruption policies crucially depend on the economy's state of development. We empirically corroborate the model's implications in a cross-country framework with both corruption and growth endogenized.
