The Good Country Individual Situation And Society In Saurashtra:

The Good Country Harald Tambs-Lyche, 2004 This Book Deals With The Emergence Of Traditional Society Through The Middle Ages And Also Traces The History Of The Divide Between Martial Rajputs And Non Violent Merchants In Saurashtra s History It Tries To Construct An Image Of The Part From An Anthropologist s Point Of View Not History In A Strict Sense But A Representation And Analysis Of The Past That Lurks Behind The Conception Of The Present For People In The Peninsula

Transaction and Hierarchy Harald Tambs-Lyche, 2017-08-09 In this volume the author challenges a number of widely held cultural stereotypes about India Caste is not as old as Indian civilization itself and current changes are no more radical than in the past for caste has evolved throughout its history It is not a colonial invention nor does it result from weak state control There is no single form of Indian kingship and power relations fundamental as they are for understanding Indian society Nor do Indian villages conform to a single type and caste is as much urban as rural Only in a regional local perspective can we view it as a system Caste does offer space for the individual though in a particular Indian mould and Hinduism does not provide for an integration of castes through ritual In short social organization varies widely in India and cannot provide the key to the specificity of caste This must be sought in the way society is imagined the models of society current in Indian thought Of course as mentioned above there is no single model Brahmins kings and merchants among others have all produced alternative models with themselves at the centre vying for hegemony while facing contesting models held by subalterns Still a hierarchical mode of thought is hegemonic and largely explains why Indians see their social stratification differently from people in the West The volume will be indispensable for scholars of South Asian Sociology and Culture

Pogrom in Gujarat Parvis Ghassem-Fachandi, 2012-04-08 In 2002 after an altercation between Muslim vendors and Hindu travelers at a railway station in the Indian state of Gujarat fifty nine Hindu pilgrims were burned to death The ruling nationalist Bharatiya Janata Party blamed Gujarat s entire Muslim minority for the tragedy and incited fellow Hindus to exact revenge The resulting violence left more than one thousand people dead most of them Muslims and tens of thousands more displaced from their homes Parvis Ghassem Fachandi witnessed the bloodshed up close In Pogrom in Gujarat he provides a riveting ethnographic account of collective violence in which the doctrine of ahimsa or nonviolence and the closely associated practices of vegetarianism became implicated by legitimating what they formally disavow Ghassem Fachandi looks at how newspapers movies and other media helped to fuel the pogrom He shows how the vegetarian sensibilities of Hindus and the language of sacrifice were manipulated to provoke disgust against Muslims and mobilize the aspiring middle classes across caste and class differences in the name of Hindu nationalism Drawing on his intimate knowledge of Gujarat s culture and politics and the close ties he shared with some of the pogrom's sympathizers Ghassem Fachandi offers a strikingly original interpretation of the different ways in which Hindu proponents of ahimsa became complicit in the very violence they claimed to renounce

Hatcher, 2020-03-10 How did Hindu reformers make the religion modern Brian Hatcher argues that this is the wrong question to ask Exploring two nineteenth century Hindu movements the Brahmo Samaj and the Swaminarayan Sampraday he challenges the notion of religious reform

Voices from the Periphery Marine Carrin, Lidia Guzy, 2020-11-29 In India as elsewhere peripheries have frequently been viewed through the eyes of the centre This book aims at reversing the gaze presenting the perspectives of low castes tribes or other subalterns in a way that amplifies their ability to voice their own concerns This volume takes a multidimensional perspective citing political economic and cultural factors as expressions of the autonomous assertions of these groups Questioning the exclusive definitions of the Brahmanical folk and tribal elements the articles bring together the empowering possibilities enabled by three recent theoretical developments of anthropologies questioning the fringes of mainstream society in India critically engaged histories from below which problematize subaltern identities and a conceptual emphasis on everyday ethnography as an arena for negotiations and transactions which contest wider networks of power and hegemony This book will be useful to those in sociology anthropology politics history study of religions minority studies cultural studies and those interested in social development and issues of marginality tribes and subaltern identity

Frontiers of Embedded Muslim Communities in India Vinod K. Jairath, 2013-04-03 This volume approaches the study of Muslim societies through an evolutionary lens challenging Islamic traditions identities communities beliefs practices and ideologies as static frozen or unchangeable It assumes that there is neither a monolithic essential or authentic Islam nor a homogeneous Muslim community Similarly there are no fixed binary oppositions such as between the ulama and sufi saints or textual and lived Islam The overarching perspective that there is no fixity in the meanings of Islamic symbols and that the language of Islam can be used by individuals organizations movements and political parties variously in religious and non religious contexts underlies the ethnographically rich essays that comprise this volume Divided in three parts the volume cumulatively presents an initial framework for the study of Muslim communities in India embedded in different regional and local contexts The first part focuses on ethnographies of three Muslim communities Kuchchhi Jatt Irani Shia and Sidis and their relationships with others with shifting borders and frontiers part two examines the issue of caste of certain Muslim communities and the third part containing chapters on Tamil Nadu Andhra Pradesh Mumbai and Gujarat looks at the varied responses of Muslims as Indian citizens in regional contexts at different historical moments Although the volume focuses on Muslim communities in India it is also meant to bridge an important gap in and contribute to the sociology of India which has been organized and taught primarily as a sociology of Hindu society The book will appeal to those in sociology history political science education modern South Asian Studies and to the general reader interested in India South Asia

Sweetening and Intensification Amy L. Allocco,Xenia Zeiler,2025-10-01 Explores how these two currents are shaping the contours of contemporary Hindu worship myth and visual and material culture in contemporary South Asia and its diasporas This volume focuses on two alternately converging and diverging currents that increasingly shape Hindu traditions namely sweetening and intensification Sweetening is understood here to include the softening of deities iconographies the standardization of religious narratives and the sanitization of ritual practices Alongside this current exists intensification which is understood as an insistence on the continuing relevance of rigorous visceral and frequently stigmatized practices and beliefs often in response to new circumstances and challenges This volume emphasizes an inclusive approach by bringing these two currents into sustained conversation As Hindu traditions are increasingly expanding into new settings including but not limited to new diaspora and new media contexts the long established yet ever changing scale of sweet neutral spicy unfolds in new ways as well The essays in this volume delineate these developments across diverse Hindu geographic linguistic ethnic and social contexts textual and theological traditions and ritual and media formats Indeed the volume s multidisciplinary approach shows how these processes intersect with and even drive contemporary re negotiations re interpretations and re constructions of Hindu deities practices narratives and symbols No One Had a Tongue to
