across the domains of sociology political science and social science in general the book warns of widespread elite institutional bias in their research and points to Pareto's neutral and balanced approach as a corrective offering a uniquely Paretian view of minimal criteria for democracy as well as a uniquely balanced analytical perspective for making sense of our culture war

New Research on Early Childhood Education Arthur T. Waddell, Rachel M. McBride, 2008

Early Childhood Education spans the human life from birth to age 8

Infants and toddlers experience life more holistically than any other age group

Social emotional cognitive language and physical lessons are not learned separately by very young children

Adults who are most helpful to young children interact in ways that understand that the child is learning from the whole experience not just that part of the experience to which the adult gives attention

Although early childhood education does not have to occur in the absence of the parent or primary caregiver this term is sometimes used to denote education by someone other than these the parent or primary caregiver

Both research in the field and early childhood educators view the parents as an integral part of the early childhood education process

Early childhood education takes many forms depending on the theoretical and educational beliefs of the educator or parent

Other terms those are often used interchangeably with early childhood education are early childhood learning early care and early education

Much of the first two years of life are spent in the creation of a child's first sense of self or the building of a first identity

Because this is a crucial part of children's makeup how they first see themselves how they think they should function how they expect others to function in relation to them early care must ensure that in addition to carefully selected and trained caregivers links with family home culture and home language are a central part of program policy

If care becomes a substitute for rather than a support of family children may develop a less than positive sense of who they are and where they come from because of their child care experience

This book presents the latest research in this vital field
