Reclaiming the Great World House Lewis V. Baldwin, Vicki L. Crawford, 2019 Reclaiming the Great World House in the 21st Century Cross Disciplinary Explorations of the Vision of Martin Luther King Jr does just that Established and emerging scholars explore Martin Luther King Jr's global vision and his lasting relevance to a globalized rights culture The editors further explain that this edited collection looks at King afresh in his own historical context while also refocusing his legacy of ideas and social praxis in broader directions for today and tomorrow Employing King's metaphor of the great world house with major attention to racism poverty and war or what he called the evil triumvirate the focus is on King's appraisal of and approach to the global human struggle in the 1950s and 60s and on the extent to which his social witness and praxis takes on new hues and pertinence not only in the ongoing struggles against racism poverty and economic injustice and violence and human destruction but also in the mounting efforts to eliminate problems such as sexism homophobia and religious bigotry and intolerance from the global landscape The conclusion is that King's ideas and models of social protest are not only alive but also growing in vitality and popularity in the 21st century especially as humans worldwide are struggling daily with the lingering antiquated thinking and behavior around race and ethnicity the widening gap between the haves and the have nots the mounting cycles of violence torture and terrorism and the frustrating and growing chasms resulting from religious pluralism and the subordination and marginalization of certain sectors of the human family based on gender and sexuality

Free Will Richard Wilson, 2016-05-16 Free Will Art and power on Shakespeare's stage is a study of theatre and sovereignty that situates Shakespeare's plays in the contraflow between two absolutisms of early modern England the aesthetic and the political Starting from the dramatist's cringing relations with his princely patrons Richard Wilson considers the ways in which this bending author identifies freedom in failure and power in weakness by staging the endgames of a sovereignty that begs to be set free from itself The arc of Shakespeare's career becomes in this comprehensive new interpretation a sustained resistance to both the institutions of sacred kingship and literary autonomy that were emerging in his time In a sequence of close material readings Free Will shows how the plays instead turn command performances into celebrations of an art without sovereignty which might give delight but hurt not and leave not a rack behind Free Will is a profound rereading of Shakespeare art and power that will contribute to thinking not only about the plays but also about aesthetics modernity sovereignty and violence

The Powhatan Landscape Martin D. Gallivan, 2018-09-17 Southern Anthropological Society James Mooney Award. As Native American history is primarily studied through the lens of European contact, the story of Virginia's Powhatans has traditionally focused on the English arrival in the Chesapeake. This has left a deeper indigenous history largely unexplored, a longer narrative beginning with the Algonquians' construction of places, communities, and the connections in between. The Powhatan Landscape breaks new ground by tracing Native placemaking in the Chesapeake from the Algonquian arrival to the Powhatan's clashes with the English. Martin Gallivan details how Virginia Algonquians constructed riverine communities alongside fishing grounds and collective burials, and later within horticultural towns. Ceremonial spaces, including earthwork enclosures within the center place of Werowocomoco, gathered people for centuries prior to 1607. Even after the violent ruptures of the colonial era, Native people returned to riverine towns for pilgrimages commemorating the enduring power of place. For today's American Indian communities in the Chesapeake, this reexamination of landscape and history represents a powerful basis from which to contest narratives and policies that have previously denied their existence. A volume in the series Society and Ecology in Island and Coastal Archaeology, edited by Victor D. Thompson.
