The Complete Poems of Louis Daniel Brodsky: Volume One, 1963-1967 Louis Daniel Brodsky,1996 As the initial volume of an impressive series comprising the full collection of verse by Louis Daniel Brodsky this book begins with Brodsky s first poem written during his final months at Yale in 1963 and traces the author s maturation into his apprentice years when he was a young graduate student in English at Washington University in St Louis presenting the hundreds of poems prose poems and short autobiographical prose works he had composed by June of 1967 when he launched his professional writing career. These pieces serve not only as a measure of Brodsky's evolution as a poet but as a human being chronicling one man's struggle to find his purpose in life, to make a place for himself in a society often at odds with his own convictions. His hopes, fears, and frustrations permeate the work, revealing the intense inner conflicts he felt compelled to set to paper, from individual matters like his indecision over vocational goals and his candid experiences with love and rejection, to the overwhelming isolation inherent in his academic pursuits, to more global concerns, especially his acute awareness of the increasing social and political turbulence surrounding him. By grappling with these issues in his writing, he explored passionate emotions, released tension, and at times resolved doubts evoked through his introspection. But more important, he used this outpouring to hone his creative skills and develop his personal and professional identity, ultimately creating this tangible record of his travail and his ecstasy, his certitude and his confusion, and finally his journey into the heart of the person he would never stop becoming: a poet.

Voices Out of Africa in Twentieth-century Spanish Caribbean Literature Julia Cuervo Hewitt, 2009. Hewitt, Spanish and Portuguese, Pennsylvania State U. explores the representation of Africa and Afro-Caribbeanness in Spanish Caribbean literature of the 20th century. Her main argument is that the literary representation of Africa and Africanness, meaning practices, belief systems, music, art, myths, popular knowledge in Spanish-speaking Caribbean societies, constructs a self-referential discourse in which Africa and African things shift to a Caribbean landscape as the site of the "Other." Or, in other words, these representations imaginatively rescue and simultaneously construct a Caribbean cultural imaginary conceived as the "Other within" that associates Africa with a cultural womb. Among the texts she explores are Fernando Ortiz's interpretations of the Black Carnival in Cuba, the early Afro-Cuban poems of Alejo Carpentier, the Afro-Cuban stories of Lydia Cabrera, a number of literary representations of the figure of the runaway slave, and two works by Puerto Rican novelist Edgardo Rodríguez Juliá. Guide to the Hispanic American Historical Review, 1956-1975 Wilber A. Chaffee, Beecher C. Ellison, 1980. Black Literature Criticism Jelena O. Krstovic, 2008. Focuses on writers and works published since 1950. The majority of the authors surveyed are African American, but representative African and Caribbean authors are also included.
