Critical Perspectives on Global Literacies Shea N. Kerkhoff, Hiller A.

Spire,2023-05-05 This book offers critical perspectives on global literacies connecting research theory and practice An emerging concept in the literacy field many scholars agree on the need for students to develop global literacies yet few agree on a widely accepted definition Based on a synthesis of the literature the editors formulate a definition of global literacies with four dimensions including literacy as a human right in all nations around the world critical reading and creation of multimodal texts about global issues intercultural communication and reciprocal collaboration with globally diverse others and transformative action for social and environmental justice that traverses borders Taking this shared proposed definition as a starting point the chapters then offer contextualized examples of global literacies from K 12 and teacher education classrooms to make explicit links between research and practice The contributors interact with and interrogate the book's definition of global literacies using a common framework of critical theory As such this book provides both emerging and established scholars with critical frameworks for positioning global literacies in ways that are relevant dynamic and forward thinking

The Culture of Language in Ming China

Nathan Vedal,2022-04-13 Winner 2023 Morris D Forkosch Prize Journal of the History of Ideas The scholarly culture of Ming dynasty China 1368 1644 is often seen as prioritizing philosophy over concrete textual study Nathan Vedal uncovers the preoccupation among Ming thinkers with specialized linguistic learning a field typically associated with the intellectual revolution of the eighteenth century He explores the collaboration of Confucian classicists and Buddhist monks opera librettists and cosmological theorists who joined forces in the pursuit of a universal theory of language Drawing on a wide range of overlooked scholarly texts literary commentaries and pedagogical materials Vedal examines how Ming scholars positioned the study of language within an interconnected nexus of learning He argues that for sixteenth and seventeenth century thinkers the boundaries among the worlds of classicism literature music cosmology and religion were far more fluid and porous than they became later In the eighteenth century Qing thinkers pared away these other fields from linguistic learning creating a discipline focused on corroborating the linguistic features of ancient texts Documenting a major transformation in knowledge production this book provides a framework for rethinking global early modern intellectual developments It offers a powerful alternative to the conventional understanding of late imperial Chinese intellectual history by focusing on the methods of scholarly practice and the boundaries by which contemporary thinkers defined their field of study
