Ancient Jewish Prayers and Emotions Stefan C. Reif, Renate Egger-Wenzel, 2015-11-13 Given the recent interest in the emotions presupposed in early religious literature it has been thought useful to examine in this volume how the Jews and early Christians expressed their feelings within the prayers recorded in some of their literature Specialists in their fields from academic institutions around the world have analysed important texts relating to this overall theme and to what is revealed with regard to such diverse topics as relations with God exegesis education prophecy linguistic expression feminism happiness grief cult suicide non Jews Hellenism Qumran and Jerusalem The texts discussed are in Greek Hebrew and Aramaic and are important for a scientific understanding of how Rabbinic Judaism and Early Christianity developed their approaches to worship to the construction of their theology and to the feelings that lay behind their religious ideas and practices The articles contribute significantly to an historical understanding of how Jews maintained their earlier traditions but also came to terms with the ideology of the dominant Hellenistic culture that surrounded them

Language Through the Looking Glass Marina Yaguello, 1998 To play with language is to break its rules disrupt its patterns exploit its weak points Thus paradoxically puns and spoonerisms neologisms and slogans reveal and highlight the patterns to which discourse conforms patterns which reflect the linguistic competence of language speakers Only those who have linguistics competence can play with it thus language games and the poetic use of language are underpinned by unconscious use of linguistic analysis Using Lewis Carroll s Alice as a starting point Marina Yaguello takes the reader on an unconventional voyage around language charting the major themes of linguistics on the way She shows that we can come to an understanding of language in general and of particular languages through exploring the devices of humour word games and poetry devices which reveal the unconscious linguist in all of us The result is an entertaining but rigorous introduction to language and linguistics for non specialists and students alike Inceptions Kevin Ohi,2021-04-06 The beginning is both internal and external to the text it initiates and that noncoincidence points to the text s vexed relation with its outside Hence the nontrivial self reflexivity of any textual beginning which must bear witness to the self grounding quality of the literary work its inability either to comprise its inception or to externalize it in an authorizing exteriority In a different but related way the fact that they must begin renders our lives and our desires opaque to us what Freud called latency marks not only sexuality but human thought with a self division shaped by asynchronicity From Henry James s New York Edition prefaces to George Eliot s epigraphs from Ovid s play with meter to Charles Dickens s thematizing of the ex nihilo emergence of character from Wallace Stevens s abstract consideration of poetic origins to James Baldwin s Carson McCullers s and Eudora Welty s descriptions of queer childhood writers repeatedly confront the problem of inception Inception introduces a fundamental contingency into texts and psyches alike in the beginning all could have been otherwise For Kevin Ohi the act of inception and the potential it embodies enables us to see making and unmaking coincide within the mechanism of creation In this sense Inceptions traces an ethics of reading the possibility of perceiving in the ostensibly finished forms of lives and texts the potentiality inherent in their having started forth Literature and the Senses Annette Kern-Stähler,Elizabeth Robertson,2023 This collection of essays breaks new ground in the field of sensory studies Organized around the five traditional senses followed by a section on multisensoriality the collection facilitates a dialogue between scholars working on literature written from the Middle Ages to the present day
