Susanne K. Langer

Specialization Of Man:

The Human Legacy Leon Festinger, 1983-07-18 For more than a million years man's utter dependence on technology has been producing a host of intricate problems For example we steadily reduce the need for human labor while finding ways to increase life expectancy We mass produce the automobile without grasping the harsh effects it leaves on the environment The Human Legacy concerns the evolution and development of man physically socially psychologically into the latest version of the species we see around us today The author paints an intriguing picture of man living in complex societies and trying to solve the unanticipated consequences of action
