Spiritual Direction and Midlife Development Raymond Studzinski (o.s.b.),1985      Spiritual Direction and Midlife Development Raymond Studzinski,1985      Asian Spiritualities and Social Transformation Simon Shui-Man KWAN,Wai-Yin CHOW,2023-10-17 This book offers a cross cultural and inter religious understanding of the ways social transformation in Asia is related to Asian spiritualities Bringing together scholars and practitioners from different cultures and fields of study it collates cutting edge research and applies it to the role of Asian spiritualities in social transformation Spirituality has garnered increasing attention in recent years across diverse fields of research and practice from psychology and healthcare to anthropology education sociology political sciences social work feminist studies cultural studies religious studies theology philosophy and so on However the term means different things within these different disciplines Spirituality can be understood to be private and personal but also public and societal not only as a force that brings about change but also one that helps maintain the status quo not only as a core element in religion but also as something disconnected from it This book poses that to gain a firm grasp of spirituality one needs to traverse these different terrains Disbarring the orientalist understanding of spirituality that is often found embedded in stereotypes of the East as mystical esoteric and spiritual in contrast to the West as scientific and rational this book deconstructs this binarism to enable a sophisticated understanding of the diversity within Eastern and Western spiritualities It presents Asian spirituality as a misnomer focusing on the plurality of spiritualities and the region s multifaceted religiosity and it also excavates interfaith terrains It is of interest to social scientists theologians and religious scholars and students and researchers interested in Asian spiritualities and social movements      Spiritual Direction and the Encounter with God William A. Barry,2004 Is what we call the encounter with God merely a depth experience of the psyche or does it have a specific theological character In this revised edition of his best selling book William Barry shows how it is possible to understand an encounter with the Triune God in this world and how that process can be interpreted and aided by a spiritual director Using the insights of John Macmurray and John Smith Barry describes how a relationship with God develops and how one can discern whether a particular experience is from God or not This understanding of religious experience comes from a theology of community communal discernment and ministry in the church This book will be helpful to spiritual directors educators and theologians as well as all educated seekers desiring a deeper relationship with God In this revised edition the author has added reflections on God s presence to suffering and evil and to evildoers updated the bibliography and freshened his examples for the 21st century reader      Clinical Handbook of Pastoral Counseling Robert J. Wicks,Richard D. Parsons,Donald Capps,1993 Building on the groundbreaking original work with the same title these articles focus on current issues such as certain life stages special populations the devalued and abused the addicted and special issues of the 1990 s      Changing Life Patterns Elizabeth Liebert,2000      Soul Friend Kenneth Leech,2001-07 Explores the range of issues that concern both directors and those who seek direction the history of

Seeking God in All Things

William E. Reiser, 2004 The practice of spiritual direction assumes a theology of the Holy Spirit a theology of revelation and of the Church and a theology of prayer Seeking God in All Things explores each of these themes as the underpinnings of spiritual direction and examines what makes the Christian religious experience distinctive Since not every experience of God bears a Christian imprint William Reiser SJ asks whether and in what way a Christian might be able to assist someone who is not Christian in developing his or her interior life This question looks beyond suggesting the concrete steps a person might take in initiating nurturing and solidifying a way of praying It looks rather toward the fundamental issue of helping others as they discover and deepen their relationship to the mystery of God Chapters are It Is God Who Directs Imagining Divine Action in Human Lives Where Do Holy Desires Come From What's Distinctive About the Christian Religious Experience Further Elements of Christian Distinctiveness The Incarnation as a Starting Point for Spiritual Direction and Should Christian Spirituality Move Beyond Jesus William Reiser SJ PhD is a professor of theology in the religious studies department at Holy Cross College Worcester Massachusetts Over the past twelve years he has also served as an associate staff member at the Center for Religious Development in Cambridge He is the author of Jesus in Solidarity with His People published by Liturgical Press

Making Disciples

Sylvia Wilkey Collinson, 2007-01-01 The Christian faith community regards the making of disciples as a prime directive of Jesus himself though this theme is not dominant in contemporary models of teaching in the church This investigation seeks to develop a theory of discipling and to test its congruence as an effective educational strategy with the objectives of modern Christian faith communities After briefly examining the discipling model of teaching as practiced in the world of the Ancient Near East a detailed study of New Testament texts investigates the practice of discipling by Jesus and his followers and in the church of the first century An understanding of the concept of discipling is gained by gradually refining its definition as the study progresses through a contemporary examination of other informal models of education Religious and educational research findings are explored to enable the validity of the discipling model to be determined Finally the definition is used as a benchmark to examine various contemporary educational theories within the community of faith In contrast to the schooling model discipling has been shown to be an effective model for teaching attitudes values and behavior as well as knowledge and beliefs in today's church Its emphasis on commitment to learning relationships within a nurturing community and active involvement in the mission of Christ to the world and its capacity to adapt to differences in age culture ability and interests make it a model of teaching worthy of much greater attention by the Christian faith community

Psychology, Religion, and Spirituality James M. Nelson, 2009-02-17 Over a century ago psychologists who were fascinated with religion began to study and write about it Theologians and religious practitioners have responded to this literature producing a fascinating dialogue that deals with our fundamental understandings about the human person and our place in the world This book provides an introduction to the important conversations that have developed out of these interchanges The dialogue between psychology and religion is difficult to study for a number of reasons First it requires knowledge of both psychology and religion People with a background in psychology often lack a solid understanding of the religious traditions they wish to study and theologians may not be up to date on the latest developments in psychology Second it requires conceptual tools to organize the material and understand the basic problems involved in any attempt to connect the science of psychology with religion These concepts can be found in many places for instance in the writings of philosophers of science but they are complex and often hard to follow for those without a proper theological and philosophical background Finally authors who write on the topic come to the study of psychology and religion from a variety of academic and personal backgrounds This makes for wonderful diversity in conversations but it makes understanding and mastery of the material quite difficult
