New Perspectives on Religious and Spiritual Education Theo van der Zee, Terence J. Lovat, 2012 Society is a complex phenomenon characterized by constant change often entailing conflict This is seen in our own times where philosophies and movements of individualism pluralism and globalization intersect and often collide Still even in this fast moving and highly materialist world religion and spirituality remain crucial aspects of human and social living and therefore must be among the many focusses of the modern school Teachers of Religious and Spiritual Education RSE are therefore expected to support students religious and spiritual understanding as well as their overall development How can they best meet this challenge This book is comprised of various interdisciplinary research findings drawn from international scholarship The findings are of a different order from each other but all have in common an element of surprise sufficient to impel reflection and re thinking of many of the assumptions that normally underpin RSE The book therefore constitutes a contribution to ongoing understanding of the role played by religious and spiritual education and of the proper interface between RSE and the modern school contemporary curricula and the teacher of today Contributions by Robert Crotty Ola Erik Domaas Michael Fricke Liam Gearon Adrian Mario Gellel Eija Hanhimaki Laura Hirsto Tapani Innanen Terence Lovat Klaas Macha Emanuel P Magro Adil Mamodaly Fritz Oser Ulrich Riegel Inkeri Rissanen Sturla Sagberg Kirsi Tirri Theo van der Zee Karen Wenell Global Perspectives on Spirituality and Education Jacqueline Watson, Marian de Souza, Ann Trousdale, 2013-12-04 In recent decades and around the world much attention has been given to the role of spirituality in the education of children and young people While educationalists share many common goals and values in nurturing the spiritual lives of children and young people national and regional cultures religions and politics have impacted on the approaches scholars and practitioners have adopted in their investigations and practices The different contexts across nations and regions mean that educators face quite distinct conditions in which to frame their approaches to spiritual education and research and the nature and impact of these differences is not yet understood This book brings together thinkers from around the globe and sets them the task of explaining how their research on children s spirituality and education has been shaped by the historical cultural religious and political contexts of the geographic region in which they work The book presents contributions in three sections Europe and Israel Australasia and The Americas and concludes with a chapter highlighting what is common and what is contextually unique about global approaches to spirituality and education

Religious Perspectives on Bioethics and Human Rights Joseph Tham, Kai Man Kwan, Alberto Garcia, 2017-09-06 This book deals with the thorny issue of human rights in different cultures and religions especially in the light of bioethical issues In this book experts from Christianity Judaism Islam Buddhism Daoism Hinduism and Confucianism discuss the tension between their religious traditions and the claim of universality of human rights The East West contrast is particularly evident with regards to human rights Some writers find the human rights language too individualistic and it is foreign to major religions where the self does not exist in isolation but is normally immersed in a web of relations and duties towards family friends religion community and society Is the human rights discourse a predominantly Western liberal ideal which in bioethics is translated to mean autonomy and free choice In today s democratic societies laws have been drafted to protect individuals and communities against slavery discrimination torture or genocide Yet it appears unclear at what moment universal rights supersede respect for cultural diversity and pluralism This collection of articles demonstrates a rich spectrum of positions among different religions as they confront the ever more pressing issues of bioethics and human rights in the modern world This book is intended for those interested in the contemporary debates on religious ethics human rights bioethics cultural diversity and multiculturalism Religion and Public Discourse in an Age of Transition Geoffrey Cameron, Benjamin Schewel, 2018-01-03 Technology tourism politics and law have connected human beings around the world more closely than ever before but this closeness has paradoxically given rise to fear distrust and misunderstanding between nation states and religions In light of the tensions and conflicts that arise from these complex relationships many search for ways to find peace and understanding through a global public sphere There citizens can deliberate on issues of worldwide concern Their voices can be heard by institutions able to translate public opinion into public policy that embraces more than simply the interests and ideas of the wealthy and the empowered Contributors to this volume address various aspects of this challenge within the context of Bah thought and practice whose goal is to lay the foundations for a new world civilization that harmonizes the spiritual and material aspects of human existence Bah teachings view religion as a source of enduring insight that can enable humanity to repair and transcend patterns of disunity to foster justice within the structures of society and to advance the cause of peace Accordingly religion can and ought to play a role in the broader project of creating a pattern of public discourse capable of supporting humanity's transition to the next stage in its collective development The essays in this book make novel contributions to the growing literature on post secularism and on religion and the public sphere The authors additionally present new areas of inquiry for future research on the Bah faith
