peoples ever be theorized without at the same time being re imagined and re invented anew Can polemical concepts such as popular sovereignty or constituent power be theorized objectively If as this book argues the answer to these questions is no theorists who approach the figure of a sovereign people must acknowledge that their activity is inseparable from the practice of constituent imagination Though widely accepted as important even vital for the development of political concepts the social practice of imagination is almost always presumed to operate either historically or impersonally but seldom individually Those who theorize the figures of popular sovereignty do not see that they are in effect conjurors of peoplehood This book invites constitutional international normative and other political and legal theorists of sovereign peoplehood to embrace the conjuring side of their professional identities as a way of exploring the possibility of moving beyond eternally recurring insolvable and increasingly irrelevant questions Instead of asking Who is the people What is the function of constituent power Where may the people exercise its right to self determination Beyond the People asks the reader to consider the prospect of a riskier and more adventurous theoretical road that opens with the question What do I as a theorist imaginer or conjuror of peoplehood assume anticipate and aspire to as I theorize the vehicles that mediate the assumptions anticipations and aspirations of others This question is examined throughout the book as it interrogates the idea of peoplehood beyond disciplinary boundaries showing how polemical visual affective conceptual and allegorical language critically shapes our idea of peoplehood It offers a nuanced account of the contested relationship between the social imaginary of peoplehood on the ground and the imaginative practices of the professional conjurors of peoplehood in the academy

The Zad and NoTAV Mauvaise Troupe Collective, 2018-02-27 Vivid account and reflection on two struggles that are at the heart of the contestation of neoliberal technocracy and the state At a time of ever more accelerated and expanded development of natural and agricultural territory in the aim of making targeted areas more profitable and controllable there are inhabitants who oppose these projects with a firm unwavering NO This is the case in Notre Dame des Landes in western France and in the Italian Susa Valley where decades long battles have been mounted against high speed transport infrastructure an airport for one and a high speed train TAV between Lyon and Turin for the other Each of these struggles embodies with its own distinct style original ways of merging life with combat And they do so to such a degree that they are redesigning today the future of their respective regions and awakening immense hope outside of their own territories This book recounts these two histories in the making and gives voice to their protagonists It was born of the intuition that these experiences and the hypotheses that emerge from them should circulate at the same time as the slogans and the enthusiasm to strengthen the will to resist
