New Religions As Global Cultures Irving Hexham, Karla Poewe, 2018-02-12 Although the Great Anti Cult Crusade links new religious movements to dangerous cults brainwashing and the need for deprogramming Karla Poewe and Irving Hexham argue that many cults are the product of a dynamic interaction between folk religions and the teachings of traditional world religions Drawing on examples from Africa the United States Asia and Europe they suggest that few new religions are really new Most draw on rich if localized cultural traditions that are shaped anew by the influence of technological change and international linkages With the widespread loss of belief in biblical mythology in the nineteenth century new mythologies based on science and elements derived from various non Western religious traditions emerged leading to the growth and popularity of new religions and cults

Making the Heavens Speak Peter Sloterdijk, 2023-01-05 The idea of a connection between poetry and religion is as old as civilization Homer consulted the Olympian gods on the fate of the fighters on the plain before Troy and the poet made the heavenly ones speak It was through poetry that the gods were brought within reach of human hearing In the centuries after Homer the Athenian stage became the setting where gods made their poetic interventions resolving human impasses and contributing to the emotional synchronization of the public life of the city Sloterdijk argues that as with the culture of the Ancient Greeks all religions inscribe a kind of theopoetry at the heart of their cultural life and thought even as they strenuously obscure these poetic origins through the cultivation and enforcement of orthodox norms Sloterdijk also shows how in conditions of religious pluralism religions poetically reshape themselves to accommodate the demands of the religious marketplace This highly original study of the poetic devices that inform accounts of the otherworldly offers a new interpretation of religious practice and its theological elaboration through history as well as a fresh perspective on our contemporary age in which collective life interwoven with imaginative fabrications is fraying under critical stress
