Special Needs Coordinator As A Teacher And A Manager:

The Special Needs Coordinator as Teacher and Manager Frances Jones, Kevin Jones, Christine Szwed, 2013-12-19 This text reflects the shift in the SENCO's role from SEN teacher to manager. Written within the context of the most recent government initiatives it can be used by both special needs coordinators and by special educational needs trainers and advisory staff. In two parts it explores the range of skills required for the role of special needs coordinator and offers information and advice to develop those skills. Practical activities enable the user to monitor and evaluate special needs provision in their own school and to implement a structured process of change in partnership with all those involved in meeting special educational needs.

Professional Development of Teacher Educators in Further Education Sai Loo, 2019-12-06 Professional Development of Teacher Educators in Further Education critically analyses the specific challenges relating to teacher educators in the English further education FE such as the diverse nature of learners and the variety of educational contexts. It focuses on the journeys to becoming teacher educators their relevant teaching know how and professional needs. This book combines theoretical frameworks with both qualitative and quantitative data to outline the pathways professional identities knowledge and continuous professional development of teacher educators. This data is used to discuss the four main themes. The first deals with the teacher educators initial disciplinary areas journey making to be educators and the current titles positions. The next one delineates the know how knowledge experiences capacities and skill sets to perform as teacher educators. The third one relates to their professional identities and the final topic their professional requirements as FE teacher educators. Contributing to the field of further and vocational education this book will be of great interest for researchers academics and postgraduate students in the field of education specifically FE and teacher educators.

Values into Practice in Special Education Geoff Lindsay, 2013-11-12 The questions of values within special education are addressed in this work. The need for this derives from the changes in legislation and practice in the UK and abroad including the development of inclusive education systems. The values underlying these and other developments are examined.

Disability, Intersectionality, and Belonging in Special Education Elizabeth A. Harkins Monaco, L. Lynn Stansberry Brusnahan, Marcus C. Fuller, Martin O. Odima Jr., 2024-02-23 Disability Intersectionality and Belonging in Special Education focuses on preparing educators who use socioculturally sustaining practices curricula and instruction through an intersectional lens This book empowers preservice students and special education practitioners and administrators to meet the needs of disabled individuals Understanding the full range of requirements relating to socioculturally sustaining practices is imperative to working with individuals with disabilities as well as with their families and caregivers Being able to understand and explain this complex issue to others is important and often necessary Social injustices in special education are historical and systemic Special education practitioners are typically unaware of the importance of intersectional differences because they have been prepared to address cultural perspectives only during awareness days or through specific units in curricula At other times they discuss the topic diagnostically for example as part of an educational plan or when teaching English as a second language Other issues stem from the value system of the special education practitioners themselves some are not willing to engage in these concepts while others prioritize treating all students the same by using the terms fairness equity and colorblindness to justify this treatment Even when special educator practitioners attempt to address injustices on behalf of their students they tend to center on only the student s disability which means they are ignoring or erasing other aspects of their students identities These concerns highlight the importance of building the sociocultural competence of our teaching force This book will help practitioners build this competence in their own spheres of influence

Social Justice in Practice in Education Janice Wearmouth, Karen Lindley, Uvanney Maylor, James Shea, 2024-04-12 Exploring Social Justice in Practice in Education focuses on the tensions and challenges to issues of fairness and social and cognitive justice in the sphere of education The terms fairness and social and cognitive justice are often used to justify particular policies and practices in the sphere of education In providing a clear definition of what they should mean in practice this book includes a discussion of and in some cases potential resolutions to tensions and challenges in relation to notions of fairness and social and cognitive justice that are implicit within individuals lived experiences across all phases of education Through their personal narratives the authors illustrate how such tensions and challenges have played out in their own lives They go on to explore differences in interpretations and consequent challenges in putting concepts of social justice into practice Chapters consider important implications across different sectors and phases of education including special educational needs leadership and higher education This insightful volume will enable educators at all levels to hear from students family members significant adults carers and professionals their experiences of fairness and social justice in education and about what could be done in the future to redress injustices It will appeal to readers at all levels in education including those studying for or teaching Education related degrees at bachelors masters and doctoral levels Teacher
