Animals in Keri Hulme's "The Windeater/Te Kaihau" Ann-Catherine Nabholz, 1995 Spiritcarvers Antonella Sarti, 2022-06-08 In a land caught between the sea and cloud where the natural landscape still refuses civilization, there are those the composers of words, tellers of tales that help shape the minds of the people that live on its shores. They are spiritcarvers. New Zealand writing today is engaging in an intent struggle to subvert multiple shapes into voices. These interviews, as a record of biographical orature, are shaped into presenting the figure of the storyteller through memory and language explorations of how we imagine and create ourselves with and into words. Here we encounter the dichotomy of fiction and non-fiction, myth and consensual reality, imagination and truth: do we live within our own selected fictions? Identity is shaped by the author's sense of displacement as well as of belonging, meeting otherness with dispossession, discovering connection through isolation. Among the focal points of the interviews are the role of women's writing, Maori writing, interrelations among different cultures, and the influence of literary and oral tradition within New Zealand. Crabtracks, 2021-12-28 The essays in this collection celebrate the signal achievement of Dieter Riemenschneider in helping found and consolidate the study of postcolonial anglophone literatures in Germany and Europe. As well as poems, a short story, drawings of the Indian scene, the first and abiding focus of this scholar's work and letters of reminiscence, one quite grave, there are revealing contributions of a literary historical nature on the establishment of anglophone, especially African, literatures as an academic discipline within Germany, the UK, and Northern Europe, generally, as well as a group of searching reflections on such topics of postcolonial import as globalization and the applicability of models to the literature of the indigene in Canada and Australia. The largest section is devoted to individual topics, each treatment implicitly keyed to approaches to the teaching of New Literatures texts. Writers covered include Anita Desai, landscape and memory, Salman Rushdie, painting in 'The Moor's Last Sigh', Charlotte Brontë, imperial discourse in 'Jane Eyre', Derek Walcott, Omeros, and cultural cohabitation and Witi Ihimaera, his rewriting of Katherine Mansfield. Topics dealt with include music and radio in West Africa, the African literary hit parade, the New Zealand prose poem, Canadian and Australian war fiction, the Middle Passage in the American and Caribbean novel, Paul Theroux's uneasy relations with V.S. Naipaul, and the colonial discourse of illness and recuperation. The volume closes with Dieter Riemenschneider's very first and most recent critical essays the one a classic on Mulk Raj Anand the other a challenging and doubtless controversial thesis on postcolonial minority writing A select bibliography of Riemenschneider's work books edited publications journal articles and book contributions reviews and broadcasts rounds off this substantial collection Postcoloniality, Globalization, and Diaspora Ashmita Khasnabish, 2019-12-03 Postcoloniality Globalization and Diaspora What's Next looks forward within the field of postcolonial studies and goes beyond the notion of hybridity and postcolonial reason beyond just portraying it This volume offers a futuristic vision going beyond the common paradigms of postcoloniality diaspora and globalization speculating a framework beyond master slave dialectic This new paradigm locates a humanitarian space purifying ego through various forms writing philosophizing and theorizing new ideas Authors focus on writers from Mauritius to India Always Song in the Water Gregory O'Brien, 2019-09-19 Beginning in Northland and heading into the blue beyond Always Song in the Water is a book of encounters and epiphanies a dinghy ride through New Zealand's oceanic imagination Every spring on Gregory O'Brien's front lawn on a ridgetop in Hataitai an upside down dinghy blooms with flowering clematis In this book O'Brien takes his metaphorical dinghy to the edges of New Zealand starting with a road trip through Northland and then voyaging out into the Pacific to lead us into some under explored territories of the South Pacific imagination With creative spirits such as Janet Frame Ralph Hotere Robin White John Pule and Epeli Hau'ofa as touchstones O'Brien suggests how we New Zealanders might be reimagining ourselves as an oceanic people on a small island in a big piece of water Always Song in the Water is a book of encounters sightings and unexpected epiphanies It is a high spirited personal and inventive account of being alive at the outer extremities of Aotearoa New Zealand This is my field notebook my voyaging logbook Gregory O'Brien writes this is my Schubert played on a barrel organ my whale survey my songbook Among the many artists whose work is featured are John Pule Robin White Phil Dadson Fiona Hall Euan Macleod Laurence Aberhart and the Sydney based painter Noel McKenna who produced numerous works specifically for this book Postcolonial Pacific Writing Michelle Keown, 2004-12-17 This major new interdisciplinary study focuses on the representation of the body in the work of eight of Polynesia's most significant contemporary writers Drawing on anthropology psychoanalysis philosophy history and medicine Postcolonial Pacific Writing develops an innovative postcolonial framework specific to the literatures and cultures of this region Who's Who of Twentieth Century Novelists Tim Woods, 2008-02-21 Taking in novelists from all over the globe from the beginning of the century to the present day this is the most comprehensive survey of the leading lights of twentieth century fiction Superb breadth of coverage and over 800 entries by an international team of contributors ensures that this fascinating and wide ranging work of reference will be invaluable to anyone with an interest in modern fiction Authors included range from Joseph Conrad to Albert Camus and Franz Kafka to Chinua Achebe Who's Who of Twentieth Century Novelists gives a superb insight into the richness and diversity of the twentieth century novel Reading Breath in Literature Arthur Rose, Stefanie Heine, Naya
