Intelligence work is a great deal like flying. While flying is hours of sheer boredom with moments of stark terror, intelligence work is weeks of sheer boredom with moments of stark panic. Ben Jourdon works as an analyst at the National Security Agency specializing in the Middle East. He hadn't sought the job and he isn't sure he even wants it. As with many of the things in life, though, Ben has little choice: the job is an excellent cover. The only thing he ever really wanted was to be a career Air Force flying officer, but that was not to be. After six years of flying, he had been medically grounded courtesy of a bullet in Vietnam and had to seek a new direction. The next six years saw him working as a Signals Intelligence Officer, but that came to an end on a dark street in Athens some eight years before. As for his true avocation, though, he was a professional assassin. What a surprise it would be for the security people at the NSA to find out about this other job. Learning to Date from Other People's Mistakes Teena Richardson, 2012-07. Marla and James have been seriously dating for the past two years. They met while attending a speed dating event at one of the local clubs downtown. Once they had a chance to meet and the bell rang for them to mingle with someone else, they never switched. Marla thinks James is going to propose marriage, but instead he proposes that they move in together. Danielle Miles is forty years old and a successful stockbroker for a Fortune 500 company. She moved up the corporate ladder and was making good money since she had graduated at the top of her class. She owned two foreign cars and a beautiful 3,800 square foot home that sat overlooking the hillsides in the suburbs of Georgia. She had everything she had strived to achieve in her life except a man to share it with. When Danielle starts to fall for a janitor, will she be able to look past his bank balance? Teena Richardson offers this collection of short stories to help single adults use biblical principles to avoid the pitfalls of dating. Learn how to find the right person, maintain a healthy relationship, and allow your heart to be vulnerable again after a painful breakup or the loss of a loved one. You'll move from the unwedded blues to happily wedded bliss by Learning to Date from Other People's Mistakes. This book presents an empirically grounded argument for a new approach of teaching writing to diverse students in the English language arts classroom. Responding to advocates of the code-switching approach, four uniquely qualified authors make the case for code meshing, allowing students to use standard English, African American English, and other Englishes in formal academic writing and classroom discussions. This practical resource translates theory into a concrete roadmap for pre and in-service teachers who wish to use code meshing in the classroom to extend students' abilities.
