ARCHAEOLOGY & SCIENCE

The background of the cover is a photograph of ancient rock art. It features several large, irregularly shaped rock fragments or panels. These panels are decorated with various pigments, including a prominent reddish-brown ochre and a greenish-grey pigment. The art appears to be in the form of stylized human figures or abstract shapes, some of which are partially obscured by cracks and the irregular edges of the rock fragments. The overall texture is rough and aged, typical of prehistoric cave or rock art.

theory in cultural resource management CRM and in GIS applications generally It showcases the important debate which takes the emphasis away from the technology of GIS and places it back within the central concerns of archaeology and particularly European archaeology Archaeology and GIS includes material on such concerns as CRM applications landscape archaeology intra site applications and explicitly theoretical concerns thus representing the state of GIS applications in European archaeology Contributions come from countries such as France Italy Hungary UK USA the Netherlands the Czech Republic Spain Slovenia and Finland Federal Archeology Report ,1992 New Technologies for the Humanities Christine Mullings,Stephanie Kenna,Marilyn Deegan,Seamus Ross,2019-05-20 No detailed description available for New Technologies for the Humanities Guidance on Inventory and Documentation of the Cultural Heritage John Bold,Ad hoc Group for Inventory and Documentation Within the Technical Co-operation and Consultancy Programme,Council of Europe. characterize that approach For those not already acquainted with recent archaeological theory the book provides a brief introduction to current trends Each chapter is in turn divided into key points indicated by sub headings and these key points are reiterated at the end of each chapter and are followed by a list of suggested readings Companion Encyclopedia of Archaeology Graeme Barker, 2002-08-13 This comprehensive fully illustrated Companion answers the need for an in depth archaeology reference that provides authoritative coverage of this complex and interdisciplinary field The work brings together the myriad strands and the great temporal and spatial breadth of the field into two thematically organized volumes In twenty six authoritative and clearly written essays this Companion explores the origins aims methods and problems of archaeology Each essay is written by a scholar of international standing and illustrations complement the text A Companion to Archaeology John Bintliff, 2008-04-15 A Companion to Archaeology features essays from 27 of the world's leading authorities on different types of archaeology that aim to define the field and describe what it means to be an archaeologist Shows that contemporary archaeology is an astonishingly broad activity with many contrasting specializations and ways of approaching the material record of past societies Includes essays by experts in reading the past through art linguistics or the built environment and by professionals who present the past through heritage management and museums Introduces the reader to a range of archaeologists those who devote themselves to the philosophy of archaeology those who see archaeology as politics or anthropology and those who contend that the essence of the discipline is a hard science

Under Pressure? Marcel Bradtmöller, Sonja B. Grimm, Astrid J. Nyland, Noa Lavi, 2025-08-07 This open access book gathers different case studies of resilience and coping strategies in hunter gatherer societies who were confronted with natural hazards Joined in this book authors display a range of strategies how people could face natural hazards and climate change how they manage stress at a group or personal level and how they transmit their knowledge about dreadful events and successful responses to later generations Consequently this book is primarily for a scientific audience focused on hunter gatherers but will also provide insights for those interested in human responses to crisis and change Analecta Praehistorica Leidensia, 1964 Archaeological Method and Theory Linda Ellis, 2003-12-16 This Encyclopedia brings together the most recent scientific information on a collection of subjects that are too often and inconveniently treated in separate publications It provides a survey of archaeological method and theory as well as the application of physical and biological sciences in archaeological research Every aspect of archaeological work is represented from the discovery process to the ultimate disposition of materials Thus the reader will find entries on subject matter covering disciplinary theory legislation affecting the work of archaeologists pre excavation surveying excavation methodology on site conservation techniques post excavation analysis The rapid evolution of analytical technology is often superficially treated or not covered at all in textbooks or other commonly available sources Here the latest refinements in techniques such as radiometric dating stable isotopic analysis and the PCR technique of DNA analysis are presented clearly and authoritatively The discussion of these techniques is amplified by including results of the work of professionals conducting interdisciplinary research and by covering the methodological enhancements provided by the physical and natural sciences Cultural property legislation regardless of its country of origin has affected how archaeologists conduct their work This encyclopedia covers all major U S legislation developed for the protection of cultural property including the recent Native American Graves Protection and Repatriation Act and offers a substantial article on worldwide legislation concerning the reburial of human remains and its effects on the present and future practice of archaeology Without some sort of conservation program at the point of excavation valuable materials may be inadvertently contaminated or destroyed Many simple and low cost techniques to promote both sample integrity and long term preservation for major classes of materials are described in this volume Traditional treatments of method and theory usually focus on prehistoric periods and are limited in their geographic range This volume includes discussions based on various historical periods on different continents as reflected in entries such as Historical Archaeology Industrial Archaeology Medieval Archaeology and Classical Archaeology Using Computers in Archaeology Gary Lock, 2003-12-08 Today archaeologists are spending more and more time examining the past with the aid of computers How does this increased dependence on technology affect the theory and practice of archaeology Using Computers in Archaeology is a comprehensive review of computer applications in archaeology from the archaeologist's perspective The book deals with all aspects of the discipline from survey and excavation to museums and education Discussion covers the theoretical aspects of computer applications with particular reference to GIS and the analysis of data but technical jargon is kept to a minimum With numerous illustrations case studies and examples Using Computers in Archaeology is a timely introduction to this increasingly important area of archaeology catering both for the student and the experienced archaeologist Bodmin Moor: An archaeological survey: Volume 1 Nicholas Johnson, Peter Rose, 2014-06-30 Year by year encroachment in the 20th century for cultivation or tree planting provided the stimulus for the most extensive survey ever undertaken of the archaeological monuments of Bodmin Moor a previously little disturbed landscape rich in surviving structural evidence of the many ways from the Bronze Age to the post medieval period in which people settled and exploited the Moor and its surroundings The survey is remarkable not only for the extent of the area examined but also for the number of monuments newly identified in the course of the work Supplementing the survey text are detailed line drawings plans aerial photographs and large scale maps
