Communication for the Classroom Teacher Pamela J. Cooper, Cheri Simonds, 1999 Communication is the crux of the teaching learning process for all people Without proper communication the learning experience is sorely diminished into a relay of information instead of a meaningful exchange of ideas between two mutually interested and invested parties This book provides educators with the means to analyze develop and facilitate their communication behaviors and interactions with students parents and colleagues By combining both theory and practical advice this book focuses on the importance of communication strategies and the means to implement them in a classroom setting It covers a wide range of classroom communication issues including interpersonal and small group communication listening skills verbal and non verbal communication storytelling and more Review of the most current and major research in the fields of both education and communication shows readers how research findings can have a practical influence Educators parents and anyone involved in a classroom setting or learning environment during their professional or personal life

Micro-Reflection on Classroom Communication Hansun Zhang Waring, Sarah Chepkirui Creider, 2020 Traditional concerns with classroom communication have centered on questions such as who talks more whether the interaction is teacher centered or student centered whether participation is restricted to a few or available to all what kinds of questions teachers ask and what kinds of feedback they give These indicators provide a simple and useful way of capturing classroom communication in distributional and categorical terms Less attention has been devoted to observing and understanding the quality of this communication whether it facilitates learning regardless of for example who talks more Based on over a decade of fine grained analysis of video recorded ESL classroom interaction this book offers one way of seeing and gauging the quality of classroom communication beyond distributions and categories In particular by parsing detailed transcripts of actual classroom interaction it invites reflective conversations on how three principles of skillful classroom communication may be practiced in the micro moments of classroom interaction fostering an inviting environment attending to student voices and balancing competing demands FAB The goal is to cultivate a mentality of micro reflection one that sensitizes teachers to the consequentiality of every move they make as they make them in the simultaneity and sequentiality of second by second classroom interaction
