The Open Court Paul Carus, 1896 The Open Door Blanche Willis Howard, 1889 The Open Court , 1887 The Open Heaven Christopher Rowland, 2002-08-01 The Open Heaven offers a comprehensive discussion of Jewish apocalyptic literature and themes in the Second Temple period and in early Christianity In it there is a sustained challenge to the widespread view that apocalypticism is a form of eschatology and it has been widely recognised as a significant contribution to the discussion of apocalypticism in religion since it was first published twenty years ago By concentrating on the revelatory character of apocalyptic texts rather than their diverse contents the author suggests that it is this aspect of the literature which best enables us to understand their distinctive religion The book offers a sustained argument for the view that apocalyptic literature is primarily about the disclosure of heavenly wisdom which offers recipients an understanding of life in the present He also suggests that there may be some evidence to support the view that apocalypses include reports of visionary experience The approach to apocalypticism in early Christianity stresses the importance of the visionary element as a decisive element in the history of Christian origins
