The Old Century And The New:

Bamboozled! Ivan P. Hall, 2016-09-16 As the influence of the United States in Asia declines with the end of the Cold War America must look more to brains than military might in achieving our objectives in the region But after repeatedly allowing Japan our closest ally in Asia to mislead us intellectually and psychologically how well are we prepared to deal with less friendly emerging powers like China and India Based on three decades of on the spot observation and participation in Japan Ivan Hall s provocative work draws the reader into a world of intellectual manipulation and gullibility false images emotional blackmail financial beguilement and fatuous expectations It illuminates the many ways that American ideological hubris and Japanese pleading for special treatment combine to deprive our trans Pacific dialogue of the honesty openness and plain common sense of our trans Atlantic intellectual ties with Europe

The Novels of Theodore Dreiser Donald Pizer, 1976 Investigates the sources and composition of each of Dreiser s eight novels and interprets the themes and literary devices of his completed works

Pulpit Eloquence of the Nineteenth Century Henry Clay Fish, 1857

Interdisciplinary Perspectives on Aging in Nineteenth-Century Culture Anne-Julia Zwierlein, Katharina Boehm, Anna Farkas, 2013-08-15 This essay collection develops new perspectives on constructions of old age in literary legal scientific and periodical cultures of the nineteenth century Rigorously interdisciplinary the book places leading researchers of old age in nineteenth century literature in dialogue with experts from the fields of cultural legal and social history It revisits the origins of many modern debates about aging in the nineteenth century a period that saw the emergence of cultural and scientific frameworks for the understanding of old age that continue to be influential today The contributors provide fresh readings of canonical texts by Charles Dickens Elizabeth Gaskell Anthony Trollope Thomas Hardy Henry James and others The volume builds momentum in the burgeoning field of aging studies It argues that the study of old age in the nineteenth century has entered a new and distinctly interdisciplinary phase that is characterized by a set of research interests that are currently shared across a range of disciplines and that explore conceptions of old age in the nineteenth century by privileging respectively questions of agency of place of gender and sexuality and of narrative and aesthetic form

First-Century Gospel Storytellers and Audiences Thomas E. Boomershine, 2022-07-29 These essays explore the reconception of the Gospels as first century compositions of sound performed for audiences by storytellers rather than the anachronistic picture of a series of texts read by individual readers The new paradigm implicit in these initial experiments is based on the recent realization that the majority of persons 85 to 95 percent were illiterate and experienced the Jesus stories as members of audiences Either from memory or from memorized manuscripts the evangelists performed the Gospels as an evening s entertainment of two to four hours The audiences were predominantly addressed as Hellenistic Judeans who lived in the aftermath of the Roman Jewish war When heard whole the Gospels were vivid experiences of the central character of Jesus These studies of audience address and the interactions between first century storytellers and audiences reveal a dynamic performance literature that functioned as scripts for an ever expanding network of storytelling proclamations whose envisioned horizon was the whole world When the Gospels were told at one time from beginning to end they invited the listeners to move from being peripherally interested or initially opposed to Jesus to identifying themselves as disciples of Jesus and believers in him as the Messiah
