The Friendly Dead:

The Friendly Visitor William Carus Wilson, 1844 The Deaths of the Author Jane Gallop, 2011-08-05 Post structuralist attitudes to authorship as expressed by Roland Barthes Jacques Derrida Eve Kosofsky Sedgwick and Gayatri Chakravorty Spivak with particular attention to time and death Final Judgement and the Dead in Medieval Jewish Thought Susan Weissman, 2020-07-23 Through a detailed analysis of ghost tales in the Ashkenazi pietistic work Sefer asidim Susan Weissman documents a major transformation in Jewish attitudes and practices regarding the dead and the afterlife that took place between the rabbinic period and medieval times She reveals that a huge influx of Germano Christian beliefs customs and fears relating to the dead and the afterlife seeped into medieval Ashkenazi society among both elite and popular groups In matters of sin penance and posthumous punishment the infiltration of Christian notions was so strong as to effect a radical departure in Pietist thinking from rabbinic thought and to spur outright contradiction of talmudic principles regarding the realm of the hereafter Although it is primarily a study of the culture of a medieval Jewish enclave this book demonstrates how seminal beliefs of medieval Christendom and monastic ideals could take root in a society with contrary religious values even in the realm of doctrinal belief The Dreamer's Book of the Dead Robert Moss, 2005-09-29 A guidebook for communicating with the departed and gaining first hand knowledge of life beyond death Reveals that the easiest way to communicate with the departed is through dreams Offers methods for helpful and timely communication with deceased loved ones Provides powerful Active Dreaming practices from ancient and indigenous cultures for journeying beyond the gates of death for wisdom and healing We yearn for contact with departed loved ones We miss them ache for forgiveness or closure and long for confirmation that there is life beyond physical death In The Dreamer's Book of the Dead Robert Moss explains that we have entirely natural contact with the departed in our dreams when they come visiting and we may travel into their realms As we become active dreamers we can heal our relationship with the departed and move beyond the fear of death We also can develop the skills to function as soul guides for others helping the dying to approach the last stage of life with courage and grace opening gates for their journeys beyond death and even escorting them to the Other Side Drawing on a wealth of personal experience as well as many ancient and indigenous traditions Moss offers stories to inspire us and guide us He shares his extraordinary visionary relationship with the poet W B Yeats whose greatest ambition was to create a Western Book of the Dead to feed the soul hunger of our times Moss teaches us the truth of Chief Seattle's statement that there is no death we just change worlds Witchcraft and Magic in Europe, Volume 3 Karen Jolly, 2002-01-01 Between the age of St Augustine and the sixteenth century reformations magic continued to be both a matter of popular practice and of learned inquiry This volume deals with its use in such contexts as healing and divination and as an aspect of the knowledge of nature's occult virtues and secrets The Mistress's Dog David Medalie, 2010-05-01 The Mistress's Dog is an engaging collection of twelve short stories by David Medalie including two award winners Recognition and The Mistress's Dog and a Foreword and afterword by Michael Titlestad Deft subtle and nuanced Medalie s stories show an accomplished and mature writer at his best Their focus is the lived experience of people ostensibly uneventful lives into which the unexpected erupts These stories find significance in the reversals ironies and coincidences of existence They bring the characters and the reader to the brink of recognition The Mistress s Dog was short listed in 2011 for the University of Johannesburg Literary Award and was awarded the Thomas Pringle Award by the English Academy of Southern Africa in 2008 It was also short listed in 2011 for the Caine Prize for African Writing and was selected as one of the best twenty short stories of the post apartheid period and was published in 2014 along with the other nineteen stories in a collection entitled Twenty in 20 Q.M.C.
