The Highway As Habitat A Roy Stryker Documentation 1943 1955:

The Highway as Habitat Ulrich Keller, 1986 The Highway as Habitat Roy Emerson Stryker, 1986 The Road Story and the Rebel , This cultural history reveals the unique qualities of road stories and follows the evolution from the Beats postwar literary adventures to today's postmodern reality television shows Tracing the road story as it moves to both LeRoi Jones's critique of the Beats romanticization of blacks as well as to the mainstream in the 1960s with CBS's Route 66 Mills also documents the rebel subcultures of novelist Ken Kesey and the Merry Pranksters who used film and LSD as inspiration on a cross country bus trip and she examines the sexualization of male mobility and biker mythology in the films Scorpio Rising The Wild Angels and Easy Rider Mills addresses how the filmmakers of the 1970s Coppola Scorsese and Bogdanovich flourished in New Hollywood with road films that reflected mainstream audiences and how feminists Joan Didion and Betty Friedan subsequently critiqued them A new generation of women and minority storytellers gain clout and bring genre remapping to the national consciousness Mills explains as the road story evolves from such novels as Song of Solomon to films like Thelma and Louise and television's Road Rules 2 Making Connections Margaret Walsh, 2020-07-24 An examination of the varied paths of the American inter city bus industry from its origins in the second decade of the 20th century to deregulation in 1982 This sector of transport has been much neglected by historians and this book seeks to uncover a range of useful and pertinent information to those who are interested in understanding entrepreneurial endeavours patterns of mobility and consumer attitudes It analyzes the development of the national industry probes the growth of particular companies and investigates specific aspects of business behaviour The work is presented as a series of focused essays which offer insights into such topics as regulation marketing gender patterns and intermodal competition It draws on diverse archival materials government surveys and findings trade publications interviews and photographs A wide ranging bibliographical essay offers a guide to available sources Documenting America, 1935-1943 Lawrence W. Levine, Alan Trachtenberg, 1988-10-27 Between 1935 and 1943 a group of photographers under the direction of Roy Emerson Stryker set out to photograph the United States for the Farm Security Administration and the Office of War Information Photographs taken by this celebrated group whose ranks included Dorothea Lange Ben Shahn Gordon Parks Russell Lee and Walker Evans have since become icons of the 1930s and 1940s In recent years however their work has been reproduced with little discussion of the particular circumstances surrounding its creation Documenting America takes a fresh look at these remarkable photographs The book opens with two incisive essays by Lawrence Levine and Alan Trachtenberg that examine issues central to photography and American culture While Levine explains how the pictures portray the complexity of life in the period balancing scenes of Depression hard times with images of the pleasures of life Trachtenberg analyzes the way in which viewers read photographs and the role of the government picture file that stands between the creation of the photographs and their use Both essayists raise important questions about Stryker's grand ambition of a photographic record of America about the ways of seeing that have grown up around the most famous of these photographs and about the whole enterprise of documentary photography and the conventions of realism The images themselves are presented in series selected from groups of pictures created by single photographers A documentary photographer often makes dozens of exposures to portray different elements of the subject experiment with camera angles and cover the stages of an event or steps of a process By studying these pictures in series we come closer to the photographer working in the field We see a tenant farming community in Gee's Bend Georgia the activities of the Salvation Army in San Francisco and the hubbub and commotion that filled Chicago's Union Railway Station in 1943 Texts accompanying each of the book's fifteen series describe the circumstances that gave rise to the creation of the pictures and discuss the relation between government policy and the subjects of the photographs The nearly three hundred images included vividly portray America in the last bitter years of the Great Depression and the first years of the Second World War

Encyclopedia of Twentieth-Century Photography, 3-Volume Set Lynne Warren, 2005-11-15 The Encyclopedia of Twentieth Century Photography explores the vast international scope of twentieth century photography and explains that history with a wide ranging interdisciplinary manner This unique approach covers the aesthetic history of photography as an evolving art and documentary form while also recognizing it as a developing technology and cultural force This Encyclopedia presents the important developments movements photographers photographic institutions and theoretical aspects of the field along with information about equipment techniques and practical applications of photography To bring this history alive for the reader the set is illustrated in black and white throughout and each volume contains a color plate section A useful glossary of terms is also included

Maryland in Black and White Constance B. Schulz, 2013-10-15 Compelling photographs of people and places throughout Maryland during one of the nation's most anxious decades Between 1935 and 1943 the United States government commissioned forty four photographers to capture American faces along with living and working conditions across the country Nearly 180 000 photographs were taken 4 000 in Maryland and they are now preserved in the Prints and Photographs Division of the Library of Congress Constance B Schulz presents a selection of these images in Maryland in Black and White Maryland in the 1930s and early 40s truly represented a microcosm of America a middle ground where beach and mountain north and south urban and rural black and white farmer and businessman rich and poor young and old met This period also witnessed a turning point in the state's history The pace and nature of change varied from region to region but even in areas that seemed most resistant to it the Chesapeake Bay where oyster tongs harvested their catch using methods unchanged for centuries or the mountains and streams of Garrett County where the seasons timelessly repeated themselves the momentum toward a modern economy influenced if not dominated by urban and national concerns had significant impact Within these pages the farms and coal fields of 1930s and 40s Western Maryland the tobacco fields of Southern Maryland watermen in wooden boats along the Eastern Shore and smiling couples dancing at a wartime senior
