

The Historian At Work

John Cannon

The Historian At Work:

The Historian At Work John Cannon, 2018-10-24 This volume originally published in 1980 discusses the way in which distinguished historians such as Gibbon Ranke Macaulay De Tocqueville Marx Maitland Bloch Namier Wheeler Butterfield and Braudel have regarded and tackled their discipline As well as chapters by individual authors who are experts on their chosen historian there is a substantial introduction by the editor which serves as the basis for a discussion about the problems involved in the writing of history

Ideas for a Hermeneutic Phenomenology of the Natural Sciences J.J. Kockelmans, 2012-12-06 This book is a methodical and systematic presentation of basic ontological issues that must be raised with respect to the meaning and function of natural science The ontological issues are discussed from a hermeneutic phenomenological point of view In addition the book contains critical discussions of basic themes raised by Carnap Hempel Stegmüller Kuhn Lakatos Hahn Popper van Fraassen Heelan and Kisiel One of the basic theses developed in the book is that logical epistemological and methodological issues pertinent to the natural sciences should be complemented by ontological issues that focus mainly on meaning and truth The book also contains one chapter on the implications of the ontological ideas presented for the history of the natural sciences

Killer Images Joram ten Brink, Joshua Oppenheimer, 2013-01-08 Cinema has long shaped not only how mass violence is perceived but also how it is performed Today when media coverage is central to the execution of terror campaigns and news anchormen serve as embedded journalists a critical understanding of how the moving image is implicated in the imaginations and actions of perpetrators and survivors of violence is all the more urgent If the cinematic image and mass violence are among the defining features of modernity the former is significantly implicated in the latter and the nature of this implication is the book's central focus This book brings together a range of newly commissioned essays and interviews from the world's leading academics and documentary filmmakers including Ben Anderson Errol Morris Harun Farocki Rithy Phan Avi Mograbi Brian Winston and Michael Chanan Contributors explore such topics as the tension between remembrance and performance the function of moving images in the execution of political violence and nonfiction filmmaking methods that facilitate communities of survivors to respond to recover and redeem a history that sought to physically and symbolically annihilate them

Twilight of History Shlomo Sand, 2017-04-04 On its publication in 2009 Shlomo Sand's book The Invention of the Jewish People met with a storm of controversy His demystifying approach to nationalist and Zionist historiography provoked much criticism from other professional historians as well as praise The furore gave him a privileged position to consider his academic discipline which he reflects on here in Twilight of History Drawing on four decades in the field Sand takes a wider view and interrogates the study of history whose origin lay in the need for a national ideology Over the last few decades traditional history has begun to fragment yet only to give rise to a new role for historians as priests of official memory Working in Israel has sharpened Sand s perspective since the role of history as national myth is particularly salient in a country where the Bible is treated as a source of historical fact He asks such questions as Is every historical narrative ideologically marked Do political requirements and state power weigh down inordinately on historical research and teaching And in such conditions can there be a morally neutral and scientific truth Despite his trenchant criticism of academic history Sand would still like to believe that the past can be understood without myth and finds reasons for hope in the work of Max Weber and Georges Sorel

The French Revolution in Theory Sophie Wahnich, 2022-03-04 It is time to re examine the French Revolution as a political resource The historiography has so far ignored the question of popular sovereignty and emancipation instead the Revolution has been vilified as a matrix of totalitarianisms by the liberals and as an ethnocentric phenomenon by postcolonial studies This book examines why More so than historians it is philosophers that have played the leading role in the portrayal of this major event in French political history The philosophical quarrels of the 1960s placed the French Revolution at the heart of their debates The most well documented among these is the conflict between Jean Paul Sartre and Claude L vi Strauss and subsequently Michel Foucault Do we need an ethics of the history of the French Revolution Ranci re Derrida Balibar Lefort Robin and Loraux can help answer this question in an epistemological approach to history These successive explorations allow us to move away from a myth of identity and to rediscover a real Revolution capable of offering Enlightenment and political utility and interrogating what democracy and emancipation mean for us today
