Ruth Mellinkoff: The horned Moses in medieval art and thought. 1970. [Review]. Adelheid Heimann, The Monstrous Races in Medieval Art and Thought John Block Friedman, 2020-09-01 Beyond the boundaries of the known Christian world during the Middle Ages there were alien cultures that intrigued puzzled and sometimes frightened the people of Europe The reports of travelers in Africa and Asia revealed that monstrous races of men lived there whose appearance and customs were quite different from the European norm This book examines the impact of these races upon Western art literature and philosophy from their earliest mention until the age of exploration Friedman furnishes a descriptive catalog of the races most of which were real geographically remote peoples some of which were fabled creatures that served as symbols He traces the evolution of European attitudes toward them with particular emphasis on the high Middle Ages when they seem most strongly to have captured the Western imagination Ranging through literature the arts cartography canon law and theology he considers the widely varying ways in which Christians viewed and depicted strange races of men Finally he examines transformations in European consciousness brought about by the discoveries of the exotic peoples of the Americas Whatever their form pygmy giant hirsute cave dweller cyclops or Amazon the monstrous races clearly challenged the traditional concept of man in the Christian world scheme It is the medieval thinking about this challenge that Mr Friedman addresses in this revealing account Sacred Disobedience Sharon L. Coggan, 2020-07-07 Sacred Disobedience A Jungian Analysis of the Saga of Pan and the Devil traces the ancient Greek God Pan who became distorted into the image of the Devil in early Christianity When Pan was demonized the powerful qualities he represented became repressed as Pan's visage twisted into the model of the Devil This book follows a Jungian analysis of this development In ancient Greek religion Pan was worshipped as an honored deity corresponding to an inner psycho spiritual condition in which the primitive qualities he represented were fully integrated into consciousness and these qualities were valued and affirmed as holy But in the era of early Christianity Pan dies and the Devil is born a twisted inflation possibly due to an underlying repression In the Jungian system repressed psychic contents do not disappear as proponents of the new order tacitly assume but distort and grow more powerful or inflate to cripple the psyche that refuses to incorporate these split off elements Repressed contents will expand to explosive force as the repressed elements eventually return regressively from below It becomes important then to understand what qualities the primitive Goat God carried to appreciate what was repressed in the Western psycho spiritual system and what subsequently needs reintegration Art and Dis-illusion in the Long Sixteenth Century Larry Silver, 2023-04-12 Whereas entire libraries discuss the religious and political history of the sixteenth century in Northern Europe focused on the Reformation and the rise of nation states Larry Silver uniquely traces the dramatic even traumatic changes of the Reformation era discernible in the visual arts especially paintings and the new medium of prints Among the subjects and themes he explores are the destruction of church images witchcraft reactions to new voyages of exploration and issues of vision itself in an age when moral codes and the nature of sin and death were being re examined The Bayeux Tapestry and Its Contexts Elizabeth Carson Pastan, Stephen D. White, Kate Gilbert, 2014 A full and provocative reappraisal of the Bayeux Tapestry its origins design and patronage Aspects of the Bayeux Tapestry in fact an embroidered hanging have always remained mysterious despite much scholarly investigation not least its design and patron Here in the first full length interdisciplinary approach to the subject the authors an art historian and a historian consider these and other issues Rejecting the prevalent view that it was commissioned by Odo the bishop of Bayeux and half brother of William the Conqueror or by some other comparable patron they bring new evidence to bear on the question of its relationship to the abbey of St Augustine s Canterbury From the study of art historical archeological literary historical and documentary materials they conclude that the monks of St Augustine s designed the hanging for display in their abbey church to tell their own story of how England was invaded and conquered in 1066 Elizabeth Carson Pastan is a Professor of Art History at Emory University Stephen D White is Asa G Candler Professor of Medieval History emeritus Emory University and an Honorary Professor of Mediaeval History at the University of St Andrews Animals and Hunters in the Late Middle Ages Hannele Klemetilä, 2015-03-02 This book explores views of the natural world in the late Middle Ages especially as expressed in Livre de chasse Book of the Hunt the most influential hunting book of the era It shows that killing and maiming suffering and the death of animals were not insignificant topics to late medieval men but constituted a complex set of issues and could provoke very contradictory thoughts and feelings that varied according social and cultural milieus and particular cases and circumstances Handbook to Life in the Medieval World, 3-Volume Set Madeleine Pelter Cosman, Linda Gale Jones, 2009 Presents a three volume set that examines the medieval civilizations of the Muslims Jews and Christians including history economics medicine technology art literature and clothing The Jewish Persona in the European Imagination Leonid Livak, 2010-09-10 This book proposes that the idea of the Jews in European cultures has little to do with actual Jews but rather is derived from the conception of Jews as Christianity s paradigmatic Other eternally reenacting their morally ambiguous New Testament role as the Christ bearing and killing chosen people of God Through new readings of canonical Russian literary texts by Gogol Turgenev Chekhov Babel and others the author argues that these European writers Christian secular and Jewish based their representation of Jews on the Christian exegetical tradition of anti Judaism Indeed Livak disputes the classification of some Jewish writers as belonging to Jewish literature arguing that such an approach obscures these writers debt to European literary traditions and their ambivalence about their Jewishness This work seeks to move the study of Russian literature and Russian Jewish literature in particular down a new path It will stir up controversy around Christian Jewish cultural interaction the representation of otherness in European arts and folklore modern Jewish experience and Russian literature and culture Chaucer and the Jews Sheila Delany, 2013-10-11 This edited collection explores the importance of the Jews in the English Christian imagination of the 14th and 15th centuries long after their expulsion from Britain in 1290
