Realism and Religion Michael Scott, 2017-09-29 This book draws together a distinguished group of philosophers and theologians to present new thinking on realism and religion The religious realism antirealism debate concerns the questions of God's independence from human beings the nature of religious truth and our access to religious truths Although both philosophers and theologians have written on these subjects there has been little sustained investigation into these issues akin to that found in comparable areas of research such as ethics or the philosophy of science In addition the absence of any agreed approach to the problem underlines both the need for fresh thought on it and the fruitfulness of this area for further research The editors introduction sets the context of the realism debate traces connections amongst the essays which follow and proposes lines for future development and enquiry The contributors present a variety of contrasting positions on key issues in the religious realism debate and each opens up new and important themes Gordon Kaufman Peter Lipton and Simon Blackburn provide the opening chapters and the context for the collection Alexander Bird John Hare Graham Oppy and Nick Trakakis Merold Westphal and John Webster explore topics that are central to the debate This volume of original essays will both introduce newcomers to the field and suggest new lines of research for those already familiar with it

The End of Two Illusions Hamid Dabashi, 2022-04-19 Dismantling the myths that divide Islam and the West this cutting edge work of critical thinking proposes new ways to reread Islamic and world histories Extending from the front page news coverage of our daily lives back into the deepest and most revelatory histories of the last two hundred years and earlier Hamid Dabashi's The End of Two Illusions is a daring provocative and groundbreaking work that dismantles the most dangerous delusions manufactured between two vastly fetishized abstractions Islam and the West With this book Dabashi shows how the civilizational divides imagined between these two cosmic binaries have defined their entanglement in ways that have nothing to do with the lived experiences of either Muslims or the diverse and changing communities scarcely held together by the myth of the West Through detailed historical and contemporary analysis The End of Two Illusions untangles the motivations that produced this global fiction Dabashi demonstrates how the West was an ideological commodity and civilizational mantra invented during the European Enlightenment serving as an epicenter for the rise of globalized capitalist modernity In turn Orientalist ideologues went around the world manufacturing equally illusory abstractions in the form of inferior civilizations in India China Africa Latin America and the Islamic world The result was the projection of Islam and the West as the prototype of a civilizational hostility that has given false explanations and flawed prognoses of our contemporary history with weaponized Islamophobia on one side and militant Islamism on the other as its most palpable manifestations Dabashi argues it is long past time to dismantle this dangerous liaison expose and overcome its perilous delusions and reimagine the world beyond its shimmering mirage The End of Two Illusions is the most iconoclastic work of critical thought and scholarship to emerge in recent memory clearing the way toward a far more liberating imaginative geography of the world we share
