In The Forests of The Night Drac Von Stoller, 2013-03-28 Deep in the forest stands a mountain that has claimed the lives of many daring mountain climbers known as Death Mountain which is one of the tallest mountains in the world at an approximate height of 32 000 feet The reason that so many climbers have lost their lives is because of health issues and extreme cold temperatures as the climbers make their way through the jagged edges of the mountain You can always count on an avalanche to be waiting for the next brave souls to risk their lives climbing to the top of Death Mountain Not only is the mountain covered with mounds of snow there is no hint of sunlight to light the climber s way as they climb the treacherous journey to the peak of the mountain Of course there are always some hotshot climbers who think they are the ones who will be the first to stand at the top of Death Mountain and yell out We made it and congratulate the rest of the brave climbers for such a heroic feat Here s where the story begins Jimmy Spencer and his friends Karen Jackie and Tom were all avid mountain climbers and were always up for a challenge They all dreamed of being heroes in their town There wasn t much excitement in their town so if Jimmy and his friends could climb the highest mountain and survive to tell about it they would all be heroes Jimmy knew the only way that would happen would be if they could climb to the top of Death Mountain The closest anyone came to climbing that mountain was halfway because of avalanches and extreme cold temperatures It was too dangerous for helicopters or planes to fly above Death Mountain to search for lost climbers so any search had to be done on foot Jimmy and his mountain climbing buddies were used to climbing in extreme temperatures so they all thought if anybody could tackle such a feat they were the team of climbers to do it
