The Random House Library of Painting and Sculpture David Piper, 1981 The History of Art David Piper, Stuart B. Flexner, 1981 Historical Abstracts, 1999 American Studies Jack Salzman, 1986-08-29 This is an annotated bibliography of 20th century books through 1983 and is a reworking of American Studies An Annotated Bibliography of Works on the Civilization of the United States published in 1982 Seeking to provide foreign nationals with a comprehensive and authoritative list of sources of information concerning America it focuses on books that have an important cultural framework and does not include those which are primarily theoretical or methodological It is organized in 11 sections anthropology and folklore art and architecture history literature music political science popular culture psychology religion science technology medicine and sociology Each section contains a preface introducing the reader to basic bibliographic resources in that discipline and paragraph length non evaluative annotations Includes author title and subject indexes ISBN 0 521 32555 2 set 150 00 Containing Nationalism Michael Hechter, 2000-02-24 Nationalism has become the most prevalent source of political conflict and violence in the world Scholarship has provided scant guidance about the prospects of containing the dark side of nationalism its widely publicized excesses of violence such as ethnic cleansing and genocide Departing from the usual practice of considering only a few examples of nationalism drawn from a limited geographical and historical canvas this book is based on fundamental theoretical ideas about the formation and solidarity of groups Containing Nationalism offers a unified explanation of the dynamics of nationalism across the broad sweep of time and space Among other things it explains why nationalism is supported by specific forms of inequality between cultural groups and why it is inclusive at some times and exclusive at others Nationalism is the attempt of culturally distinct peoples to attain political self determination Self determination was generally afforded by traditional states which employed a form of governance based on indirect rule After the late 18th century the rise of the modern state led to a new form of governance characterized by direct rule Containing Nationalism argues that the impetus for the most common type of nationalism arises from the imposition of direct rule in culturally heterogeneous societies Direct rule stimulates national identity by making cultural distinctions more salient for individuals life chances At the same time it reduces the resources of local elites giving them a motive to mobilize nationalist opposition to central authorities All told these effects heighten the demand for sovereignty The book suggests that political institutions that reintroduce indirect rule offer the leaders of modern countries the best available means of containing nationalist violence within their borders The Old Testament, Calvin, and the Reformed Tradition, 2024-05-21 The eleven essays in this volume demonstrate how Calvin and the Reformed tradition engage with the Old Testament The articles address two main areas Calvin s interpretation of certain Old Testament books and how Reformed thinkers in the global world study explain and apply the teaching of the Old Testament in their own contexts This volume is the expanded version of the papers presented at the 2019 Calvin Studies Society Colloquium Contributors include J Todd

The Conservation Movement: A History of Architectural Preservation Miles Glendinning, 2013-01-17 Winner of the 2016 Antoinette Forrester Downing Award presented by the Society of Architectural Historians In many cities across the world particularly in Europe old buildings form a prominent part of the built environment and we often take it for granted that their contribution is intrinsically positive How has that widely shared belief come about and is its continued general acceptance inevitable Certainly ancient structures have long been treated with care and reverence in many societies including classical Rome and Greece But only in modern Europe and America in the last two centuries has this care been elaborated and energised into a forceful dynamic ideology a Conservation Movement infused with a sense of historical destiny and loss that paradoxically shared many of the characteristics of Enlightenment modernity The close inter relationship between conservation and modern civilisation was most dramatically heightened in periods of war or social upheaval beginning with the French Revolution and rising to a tragic climax in the 20th century age of totalitarian extremism more recently the troubled relationship of heritage and global commercialism has become dominant Miles Glendinning's new book authoritatively presents for the first time the entire history of this architectural Conservation Movement and traces its dramatic fluctuations in ideas and popularity ending by questioning whether its recent international ascendancy can last indefinitely
