The History Of Psychiatry In New Mexico 1889-1989:

History of Psychiatry in NM Walter W. Winslow, 2005 BOOK SUMMARY The history of psychiatry in New Mexico begins with the Territorial Legislature establishing the Insane Asylum in Las Vegas New Mexico in 1889 It wasn't until after World War II that a few psychiatrists began to locate in New Mexico outside of the state institution and began to practice office based psychiatry in New Mexico When the state legislature established the University of New Mexico School of Medicine in 1964 psychiatry began to take its place in the medical community In 1970 it was deemed there was a sufficient number of psychiatrists in New Mexico to organize themselves into a District Branch of the American Psychiatric Association Prior to that time the psychiatrists in New Mexico belonged to the Intermountain Psychiatric Association a District Branch of the American Psychiatric Association that included many of the intermountain states In the late 1960s the number of psychiatrists in the New Mexico increased exponentially with the development of the Department of Psychiatry at the University of New Mexico School of Medicine and with its focus on community psychiatry Community mental health services were generously funded with federal grants and grew rapidly in the late 1960s and 1970s The first community mental health center funded in New Mexico was in Albuquerque the Bernalillo County University of New Mexico Mental Health Mental Retardation Center The University of New Mexico Mental Health Center started in 1967 with an annual budget of few thousand dollars grew to over 15 million dollars by 1989 In 1977 the Children's Psychiatric Hospital opened its door for the treatment of children with psychiatric disorders and by 1989 had an annual budget of over six million dollars During this same time frame the University of New Mexico School of Medicine's Department of Psychiatry grew rapidly In 1964 its first year the Department of Psychiatry had three faculty members That number grew and by 1989 the number was just under forty tenure track members with another forty five with Letter of Academic Title In 1967 the Department of Psychiatry developed a residency program in psychiatry a four year program that trained physicians for the specialty of psychiatry Over the next two and a half decades the Department trained over one hundred and fifteen psychiatrists with approximately fifty percent remaining in New Mexico to practice in their chosen field In 1979 a Child and Adolescent Fellowship a two year program was initiated by the Child and Adolescent Division of the Department of Psychiatry and in the next decade graduated over two dozen child psychiatrists many who remained in the state to provide services to New Mexico's children and adolescents During the first 50 years of psychiatry in New Mexico 1889-1939 the majority of psychiatric care was provided in the state mental institution the New Mexico State Hospital but during the next fifty years significant changes occurred The primary focus of psychiatric care was in the community either in outpatient care by office based psychiatrists or in the two private institutions Nazareth Hospital or Sandia Ranch Sanitarium The state hospital in 1923 had 1350 beds whereas by 1989 that number of beds had dropped to around 200 This book is an attempt to trace the events of the past one hundred years that contributed to these changes

Regional Cultures and Mortality in America Stephen J.

Kunitz,2014-12-15 Across the contiguous 48 states populations in states with more activist civic cultures have lower mortality than states that do not follow this model Several different factors can be pointed to as causes for this discrepancy net income class inequality and the history of settlement in each of the different states and regions These observations are true of Non Hispanic Whites and African Americans but not of American Indians and Hispanics neither of which is fully integrated into the state political culture and economy in which it resides In Regional Cultures and Mortality in America the struggles these various populations face in regard to their health are explored in terms of where they reside Only in New Mexico Van Dorn Hooker,Melissa Howard,2000 And because the founding of UNM coincided with the arrival of the railroad in New Mexico the growth of the university coincides with Albuquerque s transition from small town to city as well as with the territory s attainment of statehood and the changes it has experienced in the course of the twentieth century American Book Publishing Record ,2005 Bibliography of the History of Medicine , America, History and Life ,1996 Article abstracts and citations of reviews and dissertations covering the United States and Canada Who's Who in the West Marquis Who's Who,2006-06 Books in Print, 2005-2006 Michael Cairns,2005 Bibliography of the History of Medicine National Library of Medicine (U.S.),1990 Who's who in the World ,2006
