United States. Congress. House. Committee on Small Business, 1995 Financial Management in the Home Office Great Britain. National Audit Office, 2009 The Home Office has made substantial improvements in its financial management since 2006 when the Comptroller and Auditor General disclaimed an opinion on its 2004-05 Resource Accounts Further sustained improvement will still be needed over the next few years so that good financial management becomes business as usual across all of the Department's operations which will help the Department maximise the value for money of its service delivery The Department has increased the number of professionally qualified finance staff particularly in senior finance roles and has improved financial governance and leadership Improvements are also evident in the Department's financial planning and decision making budgeting financial monitoring and forecasting and financial reporting The unqualified audit opinion on its 2007-08 Resource Accounts was an important symbol of the progress made There are areas for further improvement The strategic management of the Department's capital programme has not been responsive enough to avoid large underspends which amounted to 725 million over the 5 years to 31 March 2008 The Treasury has capped access to these funds at 292 million and the Department will need to deliver on the plans it has in place to use them by 2010-11 The Department also needs to develop further its understanding of the cost of its activities and the relationship between resource consumption and service outcomes The Department recognises these issues and has been undertaking work with the aim of improving capital programme management and the basis on which decisions are made for funding allocations HC 222 - Sustainability in the Home Office Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: Environmental Audit Committee,2014-09-12 This report assesses the Government's progress in embedding sustainable development in the Home Office It follows on from a similar inquiry last year on Sustainability in BIS The Home Office appears to be on track to meet the Government's sustainable operations targets for departments in part by reducing the size of its estate but also by effective use of payment by result contracts It has achieved the reductions set for water paper and waste It is making good progress on reducing carbon emissions despite emissions from travel increasing significantly The Home Office uses a CAESER tool to highlight sustainability to suppliers and encourage them to improve their performance The Government should widely adopt this tool for all major suppliers The Home Office needs to ensure that all contracts include specific sustainability criteria and that performance on these is actively monitored and managed It should address energy efficiency in its contracts for asylum accommodation Crime prevention is an important part of sustainable policing as it reduces future social and environmental costs Whilst the Home Office is taking steps to understand the carbon impact of crime the Government's policies to remove housing design standards risk less sustainable outcomes It should ensure that the full environmental and social costs of such decisions are analyzed in policy appraisal The Government has led international efforts to tackle wildlife crime It needs to commit long term funding for these efforts and further improve the quality of data on recorded and reported offences
