The Giant Devil Dingo:

The Giant Devil Dingo, 1977      Review of The Giant Devil - Dingo P. Bell, 1974      The Rainbow Serpent, And, The Giant Devil Dingo, 1983      The First Domestication Raymond John Pierotti, Brandy R. Fogg, 2017-01-01 Raymond Pierotti and Brandy Fogg change the narrative about how wolves became dogs and in turn humanity's best friend. Rather than recount how people mastered and tamed an aggressive dangerous species, the authors describe coevolution and mutualism. Wolves, particularly ones shunned by their packs, most likely initiated the relationship with Paleolithic humans, forming bonds built on mutually recognized skills and emotional capacity. This interdisciplinary study draws on sources from evolutionary biology as well as tribal and indigenous histories to produce an intelligent, insightful, and often unexpected story of cooperative hunting, wolves protecting camps, and wolf-human companionship. Dust jacket flap      Darkness Subverted Katrin Althans, 2010-02-18 At the heart of the Gothic novel proper lies the discursive binary of self and other, which in colonial literature was quickly filled with representations of the colonial master and his indigenous subject. Contemporary black Australian artists have usurped this colonial Gothic discourse, torn it to pieces, and finally transformed it into an Aboriginal Gothic. This study first develops the theoretical concept of an Aboriginal Gothic and then uses this term as a tool to analyse novels by Vivienne Cleven, Mudrooroo, Kim Scott, Sam Watson, and Alexis Wright, as well as films directed by Beck Cole and Tracey Moffatt. It centres on the question of how a genuinely European mode, the Gothic, can be permeated and thus digested by elements of indigenous Australian culture in order to portray the current situation of Aboriginal Australians and to celebrate a recovered cultural identity.      Vernacular Worlds, Cosmopolitan Imagination Stephanos Stephanides, Stavros Karayanni, 2015-09-01 This collection addresses broad questions of ethics and aesthetics in the framework of vernacular cosmopolitanism. With a common anthropological focus, the essays map literary and artistic practices involving cross-cultural transactions shaped by social forces, institutions, and the multiple mediations of the imagination. Some essays are based on community-based fieldwork, while all encompass an affective immersion in the places we inhabit and the claims these make on the body's intelligibility. The authors consider the role of artists, writers, and literary scholars as cultural actors in a variety of settings: grassroots, regional, trans-regional, and global. Topics include the role of social and cultural activism, the problematic dimensions of national belonging, the plurality of knowledge systems, and inter-language environmental learning in South Africa; the vernacular imagination in Papua New Guinea; Anglophone fiction, pulp fiction, and chick lit in India; transformative artistic motifs of Australia's nomadic Tiwi community; life writing as a reconfiguring of postcolonial or cosmopolitan paradigms; southern African supernatural belief systems and the malign magic of the global economy; Canadian First Nations literature read against the struggle for self-determination by India's castes and scheduled tribes; feral animals in relation to the indigenous, exotic, and the imbrication of the vernacular, national, colonial, and cosmopolitan in perceptions of homecoming in the eastern Mediterranean. The collection as a whole thus provides manifestations of poesis in relation to

theory and praxis and articulates perspectives that expand challenge strengthen and renew the potential for growth in contemporary world literature and culture

The Dingo Debate Bradley Smith, 2015-08-03 The Dingo Debate explores the intriguing and relatively unknown story of Australia's most controversial animal the dingo Throughout its existence the dingo has been shaped by its interactions with human societies With this as a central theme the book traces the story of the dingo from its beginnings as a semi domesticated wild dog in South east Asia to its current status as a wild Australian native animal under threat of extinction It describes how dingoes made their way to Australia their subsequent relationship with Indigenous Australians their successful adaption to the Australian landscape and their constant battle against the agricultural industry During these events the dingo has demonstrated an unparalleled intelligence and adaptable nature seen in few species The book concludes with a discussion of what the future of the dingo in Australia might look like what we can learn from our past relationship with dingoes and how this can help to allow a peaceful co existence The Dingo Debate reveals the real dingo beneath the popular stereotypes providing an account of the dingo s behaviour ecology impacts and management according to scientific and scholarly evidence rather than hearsay This book will appeal to anyone with an interest in Australian natural history wild canids and the relationship between humans and carnivores     Paper Empires Craig Munro, Robyn Sheahan-Bright, 2010-07 This new volume in UQP s History of the Book in Australia series explores Australian book production and consumption from 1946 to the present day In the immediate postwar era most books were imported into a colonial market dominated by British publishers Paper Empires traces this fascinating and volatile half century using wide ranging resea
