The National Pastime A Review Of Baseball History 24:

The Farmers' Game David Vaught, 2012-10-17 A journey through the national pastime's roots in America's small towns and wide open spaces An absorbing read The Tampa Tribune In the film Field of Dreams the lead character gives his struggling farming community a magical place where the smell of roasted peanuts gently wafts over the crowded grandstand on a warm summer evening just as the star pitcher takes the mound In The Farmers Game David Vaught examines the history and character of baseball through a series of essay vignettes presenting the sport as essentially rural reflecting the nature of farm and small town life Vaught does not deny or devalue the lively stickball games played in the streets of Brooklyn but he sees the history of the game and the rural United States as related and mutually revealing His subjects include nineteenth century Cooperstown the playing fields of Texas and Minnesota the rural communities of California the great farmer pitcher Bob Feller and the notorious Gaylord Perry Although contrary to legend Abner Doubleday did not invent baseball in a cow pasture in upstate New York many fans enjoy the game for its nostalgic qualities Vaught's deeply researched exploration of baseball's rural roots helps explain its enduring popularity

The National Pastime: A Review of Baseball History Edited by John Thorn, 2014-12 Back in 1982 the Society for American Baseball Research was still young barely a decade past its founding and had grown to some 1600 members One of their number a defrocked English Lit guy poking around in journalism suggested to the board of directors that SABR and the world might benefit from a publication along the lines of American Heritage only about baseball Before long that member John Thorn found himself at the helm of the newly christened periodical The National Pastime A Review of Baseball History The very first issue included names we think of today as luminaries in the field of baseball history and analysis Harold Seymour Lawrence S Ritter Pete Palmer David Voigt Bob Broeg and more Over the years the significance of

Baseball and the House of David P.J. Dragseth,2021-02-26 House of David barnstorming baseball 1915 1957 was played without pre determined schedules leagues player statistics or standings The Davids quickly gained popularity for their hirsute appearance and flashy fast paced style of play During their 200 seasons they travelled as many as 30 000 miles criss crossing the United States

Canada and Mexico The Benton Harbor teams invented the pepper game and were winners year after year becoming legends in barnstorming baseball Initially a loose affiliation of players the Davids expanded to three teams Western Central and Eastern as their reputation grew and hired outsiders to fill the rosters Prominent among them were pitchers Grover Cleveland Alexander and Charlie Chief Bender both player managers in the early 1930s They resisted the color barrier eagerly facing Negro League teams everywhere In 1934 before their largest crowd to date they defeated the first Negro team invited to the famed Denver Post Tournament the great Kansas City Monarchs for the championship

Ethnicity and Sport in North American History and Culture George Eisen, David K. Wiggins, 1995-10-30 The editors use the unique lens of the history of sports to examine ethnic experiences in North America since 1840 Comprised of 12 original essays and an Introduction it chronicles sport as a social institution through which various ethnic and racial groups attempted to find the way to social and psychological acceptance and cultural integration Included are chapters on Native Americans Irish Americans German Americans Canadians African Americans Italian Americans Hispanics and several more showing how their sports participation also provided these communities with some measure of social mobility self esteem and a shared pride

The Oxford Handbook of Sport and Performance Psychology Shane M. Murphy, 2012-09-06 This title describes current research findings in the study of human performance Experts from all fields of performance are brought together covering domains including sports the performing arts business executive coaching the military and other applicable high risk professions

Baseball's Pivotal Era, 1945-1951 William Marshall, 2014-10-17 With personal interviews of players and owners and with over two decades of research in newspapers and archives Bill Marshall tells of the players the pennant races and the officials who shaped one of the most memorable eras in sports and American history At the end of World War II soldiers returning from overseas hungered to resume their love affair with baseball Spectators still identified with players whose salaries and off season employment as postmen plumbers farmers and insurance salesmen resembled their own It was a time when kids played baseball on sandlots and in pastures fans followed the game on the radio and tickets were affordable The outstanding play of Joe DiMaggio Stan Musial Ted Williams Bob Feller Don Newcombe Warren Spahn and many others dominated the field But perhaps no performance was more important than that of Jackie Robinson whose entrance into the game broke the color barrier won him the respect of millions of Americans and helped set the stage for the civil rights movement

Baseball's Pivotal Era 1945-1951 also records the attempt to organize the Pittsburgh Pirates and the Mexican League's success in luring players south of the border that led to a series of lawsuits that almost undermined baseball's reserve clause and antitrust exemption The result was spring training pay uniform contracts minimum salary levels player representation and a pension plan the very issues that would divide players and owners almost fifty years later During these years the game was led by A B Happy Chandler a hand shaking speech making singing Kentucky politician Most owners thought he would be easily manipulated unlike baseball's first commissioner the autocratic Judge Kennesaw Mountain Landis

Instead Chandler's style led one owner to complain that he was the player's commissioner the fan's commissioner the press and radio commissioner everybody's commissioner but the men who pay him
