Singing Our Way to Victory Regina M. Sweeney, 2023-09-05 Winner of the International Book Award from International Association for the Study of Popular Music 2003 The practice of singing and songwriting in France during the Great War provides an intriguing tool for the exploration of the French cultural politics of the epoch Responding to the dearth of cultural studies of the First World War Regina Sweeney's unique cross disciplinary study illuminates many of the hitherto unexplored corners of an era that many historians consider to exhibit a break with recognizable trends In early twentieth century Europe singing was considered a part of education integral to the formation of good citizens Singing was especially important to the French for whom it was historically associated with authenticity of feeling and purity of character and thereby with the very roots of French democracy it was particularly associated with the image of France as a victorious nation But as Sweeney shows different performances of the same patriotic song could carry vastly different meanings By focusing on singing Sweeney is able to provide a more nuanced reading of French Great War cultures than ever before and to show that cultures previously held to be exclusive those of the home front and the Western front for example existed in dialectical tension and were themselves far from homogenous

Labour Before the Law Judy Fudge, Eric Tucker, 2004-01-01 In this groundbreaking study of the relations between workers and the state Judy Fudge and Eric Tucker examine the legal regulation of workers collective action from 1900 to 1948 They analyze the strikes violent confrontations lockouts union organizing drives legislative initiatives and major judicial decisions that transformed the labour relations regime of liberal voluntarism which prevailed in the later part of the nineteenth century into industrial voluntarism whose centrepiece was Mackenzie King's Industrial Disputes Investigation Act of 1907 This period was marked by coercion and compromise as workers organized and fought to extend their rights against the profit oriented owners of capital while the state struggled to define a labour regime that contained industrial conflict The authors then trace the conflicts that eventually produced the industrial pluralism that Canadians have known in more recent years By 1948 a detailed set of legal rules and procedures had evolved and achieved a hegemonic status that no prior legal regime had even approached This regime has become so central to our everyday thinking about labour relations that one might be forgiven for thinking that everything that came earlier was truly before the law But as Labour Before the Law demonstrates workers who acted collectively prior to 1948 often found themselves before the law whether appearing before a magistrate charged with causing a disturbance facing a superior court judge to oppose an injunction or in front of a board appointed pursuant to a statutory scheme that was investigating a labour dispute and making recommendations for its resolution The book is simultaneously a history of law aspects of the state trade unions and labouring people and their interaction within the broad and shifting terrain of political economy The authors are attentive to regional differences and sectoral divergences and they attempt to address the fragmentation of class experience

Cultivating Race Julia Tischler, 2025-02-17 Simultaneous to the rise of industrial capitalism agriculture still the mainstay of most human communities around the globe in the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries underwent dramatic changes In many countries including most settler economies a large scale input heavy and increasingly mechanized commercial agricultural sector emerged while scores of struggling rural producers were squeezed off the land The same period saw the rise of a global colour line increasingly rigid social categorizations based foremost on skin colour By considering agricultural progressivism as both a Pan Africanist and white supremacist movement Julia Tischler here demonstrates how the agrarian question and the colour line intersected Taking a uniquely transnational and comparative approach the book explores these rural transformations through the lens of agricultural education including agricultural colleges extension services children's clubs and domestic training In so doing and by taking South Africa in the segregation period as its central case study an extreme example of both rapid agrarian change and state sanctioned racism the book offers important insights into global questions of rural reform and race politics addressing all scholars and students who seek to understand the intricate links between race knowledge and rural reform in the twentieth century      Working in Steel Craig Heron,1988-01-01 Here is the story of how mass production came to Canada and what it meant for Canadian workers Craig Heron s Working in Steel takes the reader inside the huge new steel plants that were built in Sydney New Glasgow Trenton Hamilton and Sault Ste Marie at the turn of the century Amid massive fire breathing machines we meet the steelworkers many of them migrants from southern and eastern European villages or Newfoundland outposts who braved the smoke noise and heat in gruelling twelve hour days seven days a week And we watch the inevitable conflicts that developed when these workers began to make demands on their bosses Professor Heron presents a stimulating new analysis of the Canadian working class in the early twentieth century emphasizing the importance of changes in the work world for the larger patterns of working class life He examines the impact of new technology in Canada s Second Industrial Revolution but challenges the popular notion that mass production workers lost all skill power and pride in the work process He shifts the explanation of managerial control in these plants from machines to the blunt authoritarianism and shrewd paternalism of corporate management His discussion of Canada s first steelworkers sheds new light on the uneven unpredictable and conflict ridden process of technological change in industrial capitalist society      Reading Canadian Women's and Gender History Nancy Janovicek,Carmen Nielson,2019-05-06 Inspired by the question of what s next in the field of Canadian women s and gender history this broadly historiographical volume represents a conversation among established and emerging scholars who share a commitment to understanding the past from intersectional feminist perspectives It includes original essays on Quebecois Indigenous Black and immigrant women s histories and tackles such diverse topics as colonialism religion labour warfare sexuality and reproductive labour and justice Intended as a regenerative retrospective of a critically important field this collection both engages analytically with the current state of women s and gender historiography in Canada and draws on its rich past to generate new knowledge and areas for inquiry      Kit's Kingdom Barbara M. Freeman,1989-11-15 This first title in the Carleton Women s Experience Series looks at the lively writing of Kit Coleman best known as the first accredited North American female war correspondent for her coverage of the Spanish American War of 1898 The author outlines how Coleman created Kit of Woman s Kingdom in the Toronto Mail as a journalist adventurous enough to cover a war and motherly enough to write a popular advice column      Life Spaces Caroline Andrew,Beth Moore Milroy,2011-11-01 Written by some of Canada s top researchers in the field the articles in this collection introduce a new chapter in feminist literature focusing on women and their experiences in Canadian urban settings and illustrating the importance of gender in the development of urban areas While the articles represent diverse approaches and methodologies they all point out that the specific needs of women are not being met and that women must create opportunities for democratic participation in the institutions that affect their lives In the introduction the editors develop the broad area of gender relations in urban society and describe how this field of study has evolved in Canada The following seven chapters deal with women s experiences in the city emphasizing the complex interrelations between individuals and their environments Three main themes stand out in the book the changing relationships between women s roles as paid labour and in the household the interconnection between public and private activities and the way our understanding of these is linked to changing urban milieux Specific policy areas particularly housing but also leisure recreation and transportation are examined by some of the contributors while in the concluding chapter the editors discuss directions for further study and suggest appropriate research methods The annotated bibliography in itself a major contribution to the field will prove invaluable to future scholars Harry Clarke's War

Marguerite Helmers,2015-11-30 Ireland s Memorial Records 1914 1918 contain the names of 49 435 enlisted men who were killed in the First World War Commissioned in 1919 by the Lord Lieutenant of Ireland and published in 100 eight volume sets the Records are notable for stunning and elaborate page decorations by celebrated Irish illustrator Harry Clarke Drawing from published and unpublished sources Marguerite Helmers ground breaking study provides a fascinating insight into the work of Harry Clarke as an extraordinary war artist and examines the process that led to the Records being commissioned through to the eventual placement of the Records within the Irish National War Memorial at Islandbridge Dublin With Harry Clarke s illustrations taking center stage in the story the Records and their genesis are of vital importance to our understanding of how art and commemoration can come together in a powerful visual creation Working Lives Craig Heron,2018-10-09 Craig Heron is one of Canada s leading labour historians Drawing together fifteen of Heron s new and previously published essays on working class life in Canada Working Lives covers a wide range of issues including politics culture gender wage earning and union organization A timely contribution to the evolving field of labour studies in Canada this cohesive collection of essays analyzes the daily experiences of people working across Canada over more than two hundred years Honest in its depictions of the historical complexities of daily life Working Lives raises issues in the writing of Canadian working class history especially working class realism and how it is eventually inscribed into Canada s public history Thoughtfully reflecting on the ways in which workers interact with the past Heron discusses the important role historians and museums play in remembering the adversity and milestones experienced by Canada s working class

Delivering Motherhood Katherine Arnup,Andrée Lévesque,Ruth Roach Pierson,2024-09-30 In the course of the nineteenth and twentieth centuries motherhood in Canada as elsewhere in the western world became contested terrain Male medical practitioners vied with midwives and midwives with nurses while reform minded middle class women joined with the eugenically minded state officials in efforts to control the quantity and quality of the population As reproduction gained in importance as a political as well as a religious issue motherhood became the centre of debate over public health and welfare policies and formed the cornerstone of feminist and anti feminist as well as nationalist and pacifist ideologies Originally published in 1990 Delivering Motherhood now with a new preface by Katherine Arnup is the first comprehensive study on the history of this complex development in Canada where control over the different stages of reproduction from conception to delivery to childcare shifted from the central figure of the mother to experts and professionals The contributions range from the treatment of single mothers in Montreal in the Depression to La Leche League in the 1960s 70s and 80s This book will be an essential read for students and researchers of women s studies feminist studies women s history and sociology

Changing Women, Changing History Diana Lynn Pedersen,1996 Changing Women Changing History is a bibliographic guide to the scholarship both English and French on Canadian s women s history Organized under broad subject headings and accompanied by author and subject indices it is accessible and comprehensive Facing Armageddon Hugh Cecil,Peter Liddle,2003-04-01 Facing Armageddon is the first scholarly work on the 1914 18 War to explore on a world wide basis the real nature of the participants experience Sixty four scholars from all over the globe deliver the fruits of recent research in what civilians and servicemen passed through in the air on the sea and on land

Their Benevolent Design Janice Harvey,2024-03-12 Throughout the nineteenth century poor relief in Quebec was private and sectarian In Montreal bourgeois Protestant women responded by establishing institutional charities for destitute women and children Their Benevolent Design delves into the inner workings of two of these charities the Protestant Orphan Asylum and the Montreal Ladies Benevolent Society sheds light on little known aspects of the community s response to social inequality and examines the impact of liberalism on changing attitudes to poverty and charity Seeing charity as a class duty elite women structured their benevolent design around the protection religious salvation and social regulation of poor children Janice Harvey explores how these philanthropists overcame the constraints of social conventions for women in polite society how charity directors devised and implemented institutional aid and how that aid was used by families and experienced by children Following the development of the charities through the end of the nineteenth century and into the early twentieth the book explores the conflict that arose between these institutions and other social services including those that advocated for foster care and so called scientific charity The 1920s marked a major social shift in how child poverty was understood and managed in Protestant Montreal Despite the gendered obstacles facing women in charity organization Their Benevolent Design celebrates the remarkable ingenuity and independence of a group of Canadian women in shaping social aid and improving the grim realities of child poverty
