The Islamic Syncretistic Tradition In Bengal:

The Islamic Syncretistic Tradition in Bengal Asim Roy, 2014-07-14 Asim Roy argues that Islam in Bengal was not a corruption of the real Middle Eastern Islam as nineteenth century reformers claimed but a valid historical religion developed in an area totally different from the Middle East Originally published in 1984 The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print on demand technology to again make available previously out of print books from the distinguished backlist of Princeton University Press These editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback and hardcover editions The goal of the Princeton Legacy Library is to vastly increase access to the rich scholarly heritage found in the thousands of books published by Princeton University Press since its founding in 1905 The Islamic Syncretistic Tradition in Bengal Asim Roy, 1983-01-01 The Islamic Syncretistic Tradition in Bengal Asīma Rāya, 1983 The Rise and Decline of the Islamic Syncretistic Tradition in South Asia, with Special Reference to Bengal John Muller, 2002 The Hindu Self and Its Muslim Neighbors Ankur Barua, 2022-04-25 In The Hindu Self and its Muslim Neighbors the author sketches the contours of relations between Hindus and Muslims in Bengal The central argument is that various patterns of amicability and antipathy have been generated towards Muslims over the last six hundred years and these patterns emerge at dynamic intersections between Hindu self understandings and social shifts on contested landscapes The core of the book is a set of translations of the Bengali writings of Rabindranath Tagore 1861 1941 Kazi Nazrul Islam 1899 1976 and Annada Shankar Ray 1904 2002 Their lives were deeply interwoven with some Hindu Muslim synthetic ideas and subjectivities and these involvements are articulated throughout their writings which provide multiple vignettes of contemporary modes of amity and antagonism Barua argues that the characterization of relations between Hindus and Muslims either in terms of an implacable hostility or of an unfragmented peace is historically inaccurate for these relations were modulated by a shifting array of socio economic and socio political parameters It is within these contexts that Rabindranath Nazrul and Annada Shankar are developing their thoughts on Hindus and Muslims through the prisms of religious humanism and universalism Religious Traditions in South Asia Geoffrey A. Oddie, 2022-02-22 These studies focus on questions of religious interaction and change in India from the sixth century B C to the present day They represent the work of scholars in a range of disciplines and who are resident mostly in Australia Trade, Politics and Society Sushil Chaudhury, 2016-09-13 The essays in the volume deal with a broad range factors integral to Indian history in the early modern era They unfold many facets of the trade politics and society of the country and offer new perspectives which will help dispel some long held misconceptions The first part of the book is concerned mainly with trade and commerce in Bengal while subsequent chapters provide an extensive survey of maritime trade in the Indian Ocean and the unique contribution of Armenian communities in Dhaka s commercial and social life of the eighteenth century Please note Taylor Francis does not sell or distribute the Hardback in India Pakistan Nepal Bhutan Bangladesh and Sri Lanka Partition's Legacies Joya

Chatterji, 2021-01-01 Partition's Legacies offers a selection of Joya Chatterji's finest and most influential essays. Partition, nation making, frontiers, refugees, minority formation and categories of citizenship have been my preoccupations, she writes in the preface, and these are also the major themes of this book. Chatterji's first book Bengal Divided shifted the focus from Muslim fanaticism as the driving force of Partition towards secular nationalism and Hindu aggression. Her Spoils of Partition rejected the idea of Partition as a breaking apart, showing it to be a process in the remaking of society and state. Her third book Bengal Diaspora, cowritten with Claire Alexander and Annu Jalais, challenged the idea of migration and resettlement as exceptional situations. Partition's Legacies can be seen as continuous with Chatterji's earlier work as well as a distillation and expansion of it. Chatterji is known for the elegance of her prose as much as for the sharpness of her insights into Indian history, and Partition's Legacies will enthrall everyone interested in modern India's apocalyptic past. What emerges from the essays, David Washbrook writes in the introduction, is often quite startling. The demarcation of Partition followed no master plan or even coherent strategy but was made up of myriad ad hoc decisions taken on the ground, often by obscure actors. Refugee policy, immigrant rights, and even definitions of national citizenship were produced by no deus ex machina but out of day to day struggles on the streets and in the courts.

In the Shade of the Golden Palace Thibaut d'Hubert, 2018-03-01 In the Shade of the Golden Palace explores the work of the prolific Bengali poet fl. 1651-71 who translated five narrative poems and one versified treatise from medieval Hindi and Persian into Bengali. This book is a unique guide for readers of Middle Bengali poetry, a detailed study of the cultural history of the frontier region of Arakan, and an original contribution to the poetics of South Asian literatures.
