Slaves Spices And Ivory In Zanzibar:

Slaves, Spices and Ivory in Zanzibar Abdul Sheriff, 1987-09-30 The rise of Zanzibar was based on two major economic transformations Firstly slaves became used for producing cloves and grains for export Previously the slaves themselves were exported Secondly there was an increased international demand for luxuries such as ivory At the same time the price of imported manufactured goods was falling Zanzibar took advantage of its strategic position to trade as far as the Great Lakes However this very economic success increasingly subordinated Zanzibar to Britain with its anti slavery crusade and its control over the Indian merchant class Professor Sheriff analyses the early stages of the underdevelopment of East Africa and provides a corrective to the dominance of political and diplomatic factors in the history of the area Slaves, Spices, & Ivory in Zanzibar Abdul Sheriff, 1987

Sailors, Slaves, and Immigrants A. Stanziani, 2014-09-04 Slaves convicts and unfree immigrants have traveled the oceans throughout human history but the conventional Atlantic World historical paradigm has narrowed our understanding of modernity This provocative study contrasts the Atlantic conflation of freedom and the sea with the complex relationships in the Indian Ocean in the long 19th century

The Sultan's Shadow Christiane Bird, 2010 A dramatic account of the slave trade in the early 19th century Indian Ocean is presented through the stories of the Omani Sultan Said and his daughter Princess Salme offering insight into the Arabian Peninsula kingdom's lucrative growth and ties to America

Structure of Slavery in Indian Ocean Africa and Asia Gwyn Campbell, 2004-11-23 The abolition of slavery in and around the Western Indian Ocean have been little studied This collection examines the meaning of slavery and its abolition in relation to specific indigenous societies and to Islam a religion that embraced the entire region and draws comparisons between similar developments in the Atlantic system Case studies include South Africa Mauritius Madagascar the Benadir Coast Arabia the Persian Gulf and India This volume marks an important new development in the study of slavery and its abolition in general and an original approach to the history of slavery in the Indian Ocean and Asia regions Asian

Entrepreneurial Minorities Christine Dobbin, 2013-01-11 Advances the theoretical understanding of the behaviour of entrepreneurial minorities and draws a vivid picture of how various imperial powers came to rely on local entrepreneurial minorities to establish their hegemony in Asia

Slave Trade Profiteers in the Western Indian Ocean Hideaki Suzuki, 2017-10-12 This book examines how slave traders interacted with and resisted the British suppression campaign in the nineteenth century western Indian Ocean. By focusing on the transporters, buyers, sellers, and users of slaves in the region, the book traces the many links between slave trafficking and other types of trade. Drawing upon first person slave accounts, travelogues, and archival sources, it documents the impact of abolition on Zanzibar politics, Indian merchants, East African coastal urban societies, and the entirety of maritime trade in the region. Ultimately, this ground-breaking work uncovers how western Indian Ocean societies experienced the slave trade suppression campaign as a political intervention with important implications for Indian Ocean history and the history of the slave trade.

Sojourners, Sultans, and Slaves Gunja SenGupta, Awam Amkpa, 2023-02-21 In the nineteenth century, global systems of capitalism and empire knit the North Atlantic and Indian Ocean worlds into international networks in contest over the meanings of slavery and freedom. Sojourners, Sultans, and Slaves mines multinational archives, profiles transnational human rights campaigns, shows how the discourses of poverty, kinship, and care could be adapted to defend servitude in different parts of the world, and reveals the tenuous boundaries that such discourses shared with Whiggish contractual notions of freedom. An intercontinental cast of empire builders and migrants, slavers and reformers, a cotton queen and courtesans, and fugitive slaves and concubines populate the pages, fleshing out on a granular level the interface between the personal, domestic, and international politics of slavery in the East and in the age of empire. By extending the transnational framework of U.S. slavery and abolition histories beyond the Atlantic, Gunja SenGupta and Awam Amkpa recover vivid stories and prompt reflections on the comparative workings of subaltern agency.

Aspects of Colonial Tanzania History E.Y. Mbogoni, 2012-11-20 Aspects of Colonial Tanzanian History is a collection of essays that examines the lives and experiences of both colonizers and the colonized during colonial rule in what is today known as Tanzania. Dr. Mbogoni examines a range of topics hitherto unexplored by scholars of Tanzania history, namely excessive alcohol consumption, the sundowners, adultery, and violence among the colonial officials, attitudes to interracial sexual liaisons, especially between Europeans and Africans, game poaching, European settler vigilantism, radio broadcasting, film production, and the nature of Arab slavery in Zanzibar. A particularly noteworthy case related to European vigilantism is examined: the trial of Oldus Elishira, a Maasai, for the murder of a European settler farmer in 1955. The victim, Harold M. Stuchbery, was speared to death when he attempted to arrest a group of Maasai young men who were passing through his farm. The event highlighted the differences in the concepts of justice held by Maasai and the imported justice systems from the colonizers. It also raised vexing questions about the colonial judges' acquittal of Oldus Elishira while the Maasai, who should have been satisfied with that decision, decided to take it upon themselves to mete out an appropriate punishment to Elshira instead of total acquittal and to compensate Mrs Stuchbery for the death of her husband by giving her a number of heads of cattle Slave Emancipation, Christian Communities, and Dissent in Post-Abolition Tanzania, 1878-1978 Salvatory S Nyanto, 2024-11-19 The first historical account of the dramatic growth of Christianity in Western Tanzania during the twentieth century and of the role of former slaves in this process Examining the intersection of post slavery and evangelism this book shows the ways that former slaves from a variety of linguistic and cultural backgrounds came together to create new communities in the Christian missions of western Tanzania It shows how converts adapted to Christianity and at the same time shaped it through their translations of the Bible and other religious texts into the Kinyamwezi language integrating concepts from their own cultures and experiences of slavery Working as teachers pastors and catechists former slaves and their descendants laid the basis for the growth of African Christianity in the region and the book pays particular attention to women s agency in creating spaces for negotiating kinship ties and mutual relations with the wider communities It also delves into the range of missionary sources to show the experience of lay Christians who opposed religious authority in Catholic and Moravian missions examining the division caused by catechists demands for equality of status recognition and appropriate pay in the context of ujamaa and the turmoil brought about by the revival movement Through narratives of religious experience from multiple missions and village outstations the book shows how former slaves created a Kinyamwezi speaking Christian culture taking inspiration both from European missionaries and neighbouring African villagers and became part of evolving rural communities in the inter war period enabling their descendants to achieve a significant degree of social mobility Economies of Representation, 1790-2000 Dr Helen Gilbert, Dr Leigh Dale, 2013-04-28 Although postcolonialism has emerged as one of the most significant theoretical movements in literary and cultural studies it has paid scant attention to the importance of trade and trade relations to debates about culture Focusing on the past two centuries this volume investigates the links among trade colonialism and forms of representation posing the question What is the historical or modern relationship between economic inequality and imperial patterns of representation and reading Rather than dealing exclusively with a particular industry or type of industry the contributors take up the issue of how various economies have been represented in Aboriginal art in literature by North American Caribbean Portuguese South African First Nations Australian British and Aboriginal authors and in a diverse range of writings that includes travel diaries missionary texts the findings of the Leprosy Investigation Commission early medical accounts and media representations of HIV AIDS Examining trade in commodities as various as illicit drugs liquor bananas tourism adventure fiction and modern Aboriginal art as well as cultural exchanges in politics medicine and literature the essays reflect the widespread origins of the contributors themselves who are based throughout the English speaking world Taken as a whole this book contests the commonplace view promoted by some modern economists that trade in and of itself has a leveling effect equalising cultures places and peoples demonstrating instead the ways in which commerce has created
