Social Dimension Of 1992 Vol 38 Europe Faces A New Ec:

New Challenges to the European Union Stelios Stavridis, 1997 This work aims in the aftermath of Maastricht and in the context of the Inter Governmental Conference of 1996 97 to reflect on questions of European Union strategy on employment military protectionism the place of Central and Eastern Europe and most importantly on its own raison d'être The European Social Dialogue Under Articles 138 and 139 of the EC Treaty Christian Welz, 2008-01-01 Describes analyses and assesses the European social dialogue from a combined theoretical and normative perspective and applies theoretical strands stemming from industrial relations EC law and political theory to an understanding and assessment of the genesis actors processes and outcomes of the European social dialogue through 2007 Central and East European Migrants'

Contributions to Social Protection S. Maatsch, 2012-12-15 In 2001 Germany and Austria became the last EU states to lift transnational controls restricting access to their labour markets for citizens of ex communist countries This book challenges anti immigration discourses to show that given the high percentage of skilled immigrants it is the sending rather than the receiving countries who lose out Issues in Irish Public Policy George Taylor, 2002 It is growing ever clearer that the Irish policy has experienced profound change over the last ten years The pessimism which prevailed during the 1980s has given way to an overwhelming political enthusiasm explained by the concept of our times the Celtic Tiger Amid the enthusiasm for embracing all that is now particularly Irish it is hardly surprising to find that dissenting voices should be few and far between This intoxicating political elixir formulated around the state's alleged capacity to reconcile economic growth with political consensus is an incredible feat when we consider that it has taken place against a political backdrop of electoral defeats for a succession of coalition governments Although this startling economic growth has been welcomed it seems that the Celtic Tiger has not delivered its financial promises Despite criticism of individual elements of successive budgets the content and ideological stance of policy has received only scant attention Debate on Irish public policy has been conspicuous only by its absence It is this omission which forms the basis for this edited collection European Review of

Social Psychology: Volume 26 Miles Hewstone, 2017-10-23 The European Review of Social Psychology ERSP is an international open submission review journal published under the auspices of the European Association of Social Psychology It provides an outlet for substantial theory based reviews of empirical work addressing the full range of topics covered by the field of social psychology Potential authorship is international and papers are edited with the help of a distinguished international editorial board Articles published in ERSP typically review a programme of the author's own research as evidenced by the author's own papers published in leading peer reviewed journals The journal welcomes theoretical contributions that are underpinned by a substantial body of empirical research which locate the research programme within a wider body of published research in that area and provide an integration that is greater than the sum of the published articles ERSP also publishes conventional reviews and meta analyses All published review articles in this journal have
